

BREAD REBELLION MENACES GERMAN CITIES

BERLIN, November 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Danger of a bread rebellion in big cities menaced Germany today as the army completed preparations to combat any aggressive move by the Bavarian Fascists.

Thousands of families were in desperation as they found themselves unable to buy bread today. Long lines of hungry people, waiting for bread early today, broke in despair and rushed the shops.

Many had been without bread since Saturday, due to erroneous fixation of price at 140 billion paper marks a loaf instead of at a lower official figure. Five hundred desperate men and women rushed the bread wagons in a factory district. Having been out of work for so long they attacked so furiously that the police were helpless against them. Finally a division of storm troops brought the police into formation and sent them dashing against the crowd. The hungry mob scattered, leaving many of the holder ones struggling helplessly in the hands of the police. Many bakeries kept the price of bread at 140 billion marks over the week-end, following erroneous reports that the price was fixed at that. It represented 33 cents according to Berlin's quotations. A week's wages averaged two hundred and fifty billion and five hundred billion paper marks and the sudden jump left many families unable to buy even two loaves for a whole week. "Bread" was the sole cry in Berlin and other large cities today. In face of the activities of the illegal military organizations along the Bavarian border, the Federal government continued to move secretly to place troops in defensive position along the Thuringian border in case the threatening march of the illegal military groups scattered on the North Bavarian frontier develops. It was expected the first rush would be into Thuringia.

Italy And Belgium Desert France On Restricted Inquiry Of Reparations; Favor Free Probe By Experts

Poincare Alone On Limiting Experts

WASHINGTON, November 5.—(By the Associated Press)—State department advisers today indicated that Great Britain, Italy and Belgium have rejected an accord favoring a free and full reparations inquiry by an expert committee. In effect the proposition of these three governments as understood here coincides with that taken by the United States and opposes the stand for a restricted inquiry only taken by France.

PARIS, Nov. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Ambassador Jusserand will verbally communicate to Secretary of State Hughes the attitude of the French government in the reparations negotiations, governing himself by his talk with Premier Poincare before he sailed and by information sent the French embassy in Washington since his departure. He will deliver no note, it was said, at the foreign office this morning. The latest instructions from the Quai d'Orsay went forward Saturday.

Ashes of Bonar Law Entombed

LONDON, Nov. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—The ashes of Andrew Bonar Law who was for seven months prime minister of Great Britain and perhaps the most modest man upon whom that honor ever was conferred, were entombed today in Great Westminster Abbey.

In this shrine were assembled a distinguished company of nearly 3,000 persons representing all who are prominent and important in the British world. There were members of the royal family, several hundred men from the British dominions beyond the seas, the chiefs of the army, navy and police and civil services; members of the diplomatic corps, numerous leaders in finance and business from which the late statesman had passed a life of politics. Also there were many famous names in literature and in the arts and one large group composed of every day British citizens, thousands of whom waited for hours outside the altar in the hope of being fortunate enough to gain admission.

4,000 ALIENS ON PAROLE

NEW YORK, November 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Four thousand aliens facing deportation because the immigration quotas of their country was exhausted, began landing in this port today on parole. Their release was ordered by Secretary of Labor James J. Davis, who last night cut the red tape that threatened to send thousands back across the sea without even an examination.

The decision to land the 4,000 excess quota immigrants on parole was made in the interests of humanity. Commissioner of Immigration Henry H. Curran announced after a conference with Secretary Davis yesterday. An attempt would be made to admit them as soon as possible, he said.

Of the 4,000 immigrants who faced deportation, 1,367 mostly British, arrived in the Levantine, largest American steamship.

Foreign governments were blamed for the situation by Secretary Davis, who said that congestion could be avoided if passports were limited to the number fixed by the American quota law.

possibility of a federal probe of the actions of Governor Walton yesterday when it became known that a federal investigator had asked the house committee for evidence regarding an alleged mismanagement of the federal truck funds. Information with regard to the drive Governor Walton is said to be making for funds with which to fight the Ku Klux Klan also has been sought and received, house committee members announced.

The evidence tends to show that federal trucks donated to the Oklahoma highway department were used by the state for purposes other than for which the federal government intended, legislators who have investigated the actions of the governor, claim.

Wednesday the governor will appear before the senate committee to plead to the impeachment charges. Trial is set for 1:30 p. m., Thursday.

Scots To Vote On Prohibition

LONDON, Nov. 5.—Thirty to forty Scotch towns are to vote this week to decide the prohibition issue for the locality. The campaign has been intense. The days have to reverse the decision given in 1920 when only two towns—Kirkcaldy and Kilsyth—abolished liquor licenses. The wets in these places, forced to take long journeys during the last three years to quench their thirsts, have been making desperate efforts to bring their fellow-townsmen back to the traditional freedom in the matter of beverages.

The Daily Mail's comments on the experience with prohibition in the United States are not calculated to spread enthusiasm for this reform. The newspaper says it looks as though the attempt to forbid human beings from taking a particular kind of drink creates among them a determination to get that drink at whatever cost to their pockets or vitality.

Doctrines of Love Is Applicable To Business

NEW YORK, November 5.—(By the Associated Press)—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., is convinced that "the doctrine of love is applicable to business life."

Speaking yesterday to the Park Avenue Baptist Church Bible Class, of which he is honorary president, he drew upon his business experiences to illustrate the chapter from St. Paul upon brotherly love, summing up his theme with the words:

"If I have three things and I have not love, it profits me nothing. Only where service to others is considered first and profit secondarily can business reach its highest success," he told his audience of 250. "If I had questioned the importance of love in that unfortunate industrial affair arising with the Colorado miners many years ago, I don't think anything would have come out of the conference. There was much bitterness. It was through love, the understanding between man and man, that we reached a solution."

The world war, he added, seemed to have proved that force was the significant thing in life.

"Does peace exist in the world today so that good will any shine in the hearts of men?"

"It does not. Force is less than love, but it has hidden love from us, that is why I turn to St. Paul's letter upon love, because its meaning is needed in the world today. Patience is one of the great virtues of life," he added.

"It has been my experience in business life that men who can wait the longest win. It is a great pleasure to reflect that in my past life I have never heard one impatient word spoken by my father or mother."

Over Half Billion Lost By American Investors In Marks

NEW YORK, November 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Between $500,000,000 and $750,000,000 has been lost by American investors through the collapse of the German mark, the New York Tribune stated today. English investors lost about $500,000,000 and other countries a like amount, the newspaper continued, declaring that Germany not only had repudiated its national debt but had been the gainer to the extent of about $2,000,000,000. The loss includes the funds of thousands of small investors. It was said, many of them German-Americans, who bought marks at two cents each or more, in the belief that they would recover. It also includes money invested in German bonds payable in paper money.

Francis H. Sisson, vice president of the Guaranty Trust Company, expressed doubt as to whether Germany would be able to establish a stable currency before a basis for a settlement of the reparations question was decided upon, the Tribune stated, quoting him as follows:

"I do not believe the decline of the mark to its present state of worthlessness was due to a deliberate plot on the part of Germany to evade responsibility for its paper money. The decline of the mark began soon after the war was declared and it has declined ever since as a result of Germany's economic situation.

"It would be impossible to tell how much American money was lost, but I estimate how many grasshoppers there are in a field of wheat. It is my opinion that an agreement must be reached on the reparations question before any stable monetary system can be established in Germany.

"I know of no parallel to the wiping out of a nation's currency such as this. The nearest approach to it was perhaps the collapse of the Russian money and of Confederate money during the Civil War."

Testified Walton Received $6,000 Bribe From Townsfolk

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Nov. 5.—(By the Associated Press)—Val Gardner, formerly a citizen of Tonkawa, Oklahoma, appeared before the house investigating committee of the Oklahoma legislature yesterday and testified in corroboration of the charges in the fifth count of the impeachment bill against Governor J. C. Walton, suspended executive, according to members of the committee.

That count alleges that the governor received $6,000 from citizens of Tonkawa in return for which he permitted the appropriation for the Tonkawa preparatory school to stand.

Members of the investigating committee said Gardner testified the money was drawn from the Security National bank of Tonkawa and given to him in an envelope. He delivered the money to A. B. Snodgrass, an employee of the Oklahoma state highway department. The transaction took place on the morning of the day the governor approved the school funds, Gardner is said to have informed the committee.

This was early in April. The alleged bribe is said to have been raised among Tonkawa citizens.

The grand jury which is said to be investigating actions of the governor will resume activities today.

Separatists Move On Palatinate

BERLIN, November 5.—(By the Associated Press)—The separatists have begun a movement to control the Bavarian Palatinate. A large band entered Kaiserslautern last night and attacked the town hall. They were repulsed but then occupied one of the government buildings and a newspaper office. At an early hour this morning the French police were clearing the streets.

Poincare Jockeying For Good Position

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
(Copyright, 1923, by The Times)
WASHINGTON, Nov. 5.—One French agreement between France and the United States relative to American help in adjusting the all-important problem of German reparations.

When Premier Poincare used the word in describing what he believed to be the scope of the commission of experts, he may have meant Germany's "present capacity to pay," he also may have intended to speak of Germany's "actual" capacity to pay as distinguished from her theoretical ability.

This ambiguity is in process of being clarified. Informal conversations between the diplomatic representatives of the French and American governments at Washington and Paris are proceeding and all stories of a break up of the conference are predicted solely on the idea that the French premier wants to block the conference.

Opposed to this is his cordial acceptance in principle of American offers of help and the well established fact that having once won American cooperation from an administration which has scrupulously held itself aloof from European affairs for nearly three years, the French government and European opinion generally could not take kindly to the wrecking of the first real proposal of hope that has come forth since the deadlock began.

What is going on behind the scenes at the moment is of critical importance but the outcome need not be doubted. The U. S. Government got the impression from the informal utterances of the French foreign office in the press that it was intended by the French to limit the scope of the inquiry to Germany's present capacity to pay and that consideration of Germany's future capacity or any other related subject would be excluded. Without waiting for an official expression on the subject from the French government, President Coolidge and the Cabinet discussed the effect of such limitations and came to ten and Gett were in the car when it started to Gallia pike skirts the west side of the City Water Works property. It also being used to go to and from the pumping station to the filtration plant. The road crosses several railroad tracks and the engine, which was a piece of machinery belonging to the Sorey Company, in addition to crossing the street car and traction tracks. The machine had just passed from under the first elevated track south of Gallia pike and was crossing the street car tracks when the switch engine was first noticed approaching on the right side of the car. A huge pile of coal prevented the men in the machine and the engineers from seeing each other until the machine was close to the engine and the collision occurred. When Hammond noticed the engine coming and seeing he could not get across the track swung his machine sharply to the left in an effort to drive round by the side of the track, but the engine required a sharp turn was so sharp that it could not be made. The machine probably was in the middle of the track when caught by the front of the engine. As Hammond turned sharply to the left Larkin, who was sitting in the machine on the outside of the car, jumped from the machine. Gett got out of the back seat at about the same time. He was not hurt and had a chance for recovery. He was unconscious and remained in that state until death came about three o'clock. Sarder was brought to the hospital in a tearing car and after having his foot attended to returned home. His body was attended at New Boston.

McNallen was placed upon the operating table at once and an operation was performed on the skull. Blood coming from his mouth and ears, indicating a serious brain hemorrhage, caused skull fracture. The operation was thought to have relieved the man to some extent, but the brain was crushed, so that death came a short time later. Parts of the brain tissue came through the skull fractures. He also sustained multiple bruises to the body.

Head and Arm Broken.

Hammond was given treatment by other physicians and it was found that his right leg and left arm were broken. Both breaks are serious and he will be laid up for some time. He is now at the home of his wife, John's were a few hours ago, making his condition considerably worse.

Sarder sustained two broken toes on his right foot and a toe nail was torn off. He is able to get about on crutches. Keeney's injuries include cuts about the head and face.

HARTZEL EVANS Republican Candidate for CITY TREASURER

When I was nominated for the office of City Treasurer of Portsmouth I had expected to see every elector of the city in behalf of my candidacy. However, I have been pressed for time, and have been unable to carry out my plans. Therefore, I take this opportunity to ask your support for the office to which I aspire. I believe those who know me will admit that I am thoroughly qualified to fill the position. My republicanism has never been questioned. I have worked hard for the success of Republicans at the polls, and this is the first time I have sought preferment at the hands of my party.

My life is an open book. I have tried to live up to the principles that should actuate every good citizen. I believe in Portsmouth and her people and will be under obligations if you vote for me. It will be my aim, if elected, to conduct the affairs of the office to merit the approval of the good citizens of this growing city, and I assure every one who will have any business dealings with the office that they will be treated fairly and courteously.

My candidacy is in your hands—I await your approval.

Poincare

the conclusion that it was wise to inform France—also through the press—that such a limitation would make futile the work of any inquiring body and that America was so much affected by the suggestion of limitation as to doubt seriously whether it was worth while participating at all.

Having made a gesture of help, Europe could no longer accuse the United States of indifference, and all those people who have been clamoring for American co-operation with Europe would see clearly once for all that nothing could be done in Europe without the consent of the French government.

Thus far the French government has not written its formal reply to the American government as to the scope of the inquiry. The French sent out "feathers" through the press and have found America unalterably opposed to an inquiry that shall not inquire into the real essentials of the controversy. Finding America obdurate, the French government can not afford to take the responsibility for the break up of the parley as it would prove splendid ammunition for an opposition party in France and might even mean the overthrow of the Poincare ministry.

For the facts of the situation indicate that France would not lose her freedom of action, her right to reject the findings of the commission of inquiry and no government could justify a refusal to determine facts.

The locking of Premier Poincare with technical phrases is the natural habit of his legal and precise mind but in the end he can not justify a destruction of the world's only hope for an European settlement at the moment and he is as well aware of that today as he was the day the British and American governments by mutual agreement gave publicity to the text of the original invitation.

Premier Poincare could not refuse to accept in principle then and he can not afford to set up obstacles that cast doubt on the sincerity of his first acceptance.

The best informed opinion here is that verbal ambiguities and technicalities will be swept aside in another few days and the parley of experts assured. Incidentally President Coolidge himself has cleared up the doubt raised by Senator McCormick's recent statements. Mr. Coolidge has let it be known that American experts will be appointed by or represent the United States Government but will act in an advisory capacity to the Reparations Commission.

The Real Issue

One of the vital questions to citizens of Portsmouth in the election on November 6th is whether they propose to continue Joe Distel as chief of police.

We indict the Gableman administration at the bar of public opinion with placing the preservation of law and order in the hands of Joe Distel, a man thrice repudiated by overwhelming majorities by the electors of this county as being unfit for public office.

We indict the Gableman administration for forcing upon the public this discredited official whose conduct of the police department is a by-word abroad and a constant source of shame to every true citizen of the fair city of Portsmouth.

ELECTION, TUESDAY, NOV. 6.

SCIOTO COUNTY TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

A. B. PRIOR, President

MAMIE ERWIN, Secretary

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Dolly—I would like to know if there is not a clause or section in the constitution of Ohio which says that private residences are not subject to search without a warrant? I haven't got one in my possession, and I don't want to make a mistake by misquoting it. Please give this section in full for the benefit of your many readers.

WANT TO KNOW
Section 14 of the Constitution of the State of Ohio says: "The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers, and possessions against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated; and no warrant shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, particularly describing the place to be searched and the person and things to be seized."

Dear Miss Wise—Could you tell me of hand how many acres of ground are connected with the Ohio State University at Columbus?

TIMES READER
There are four hundred and fifty-three acres. Three hundred and thirty-three acres of land lying within the city limits west of High street and three miles north of Capital Square were purchased as a site for the college in 1870. Additional purchases of adjacent land make an estate of 453 acres at the present time.

Dear Dolly—I am an old bachelor aged 48, and I have been going with a girl for 23 years. Would you advise me to marry her now or wait a few years?
ANXIOUS FIM
Since I never advise hasty marriages, I think you had better wait a few years.

Dear Dolly—I hear considerable talk about the cold weather coming on, and I would like for you to tell me if it will be a cold or open winter. Now Dolly, I would like to know this very much as I want to bury my potatoes deep if it is to be cold and not a thin coat of dirt will do.

YOUNG FARMER
Sure, if it doesn't get cold it will be an open winter. However, an ounce of precaution is worth a pound of cure and an open winter is worth a bushel of frozen ones. So I would advise you to give them a good warm bed and then you should worry about the weather. A good way to bury potatoes and turnips is to dig a hole six or eight inches deep and about the size of the bottom of a straw stack, the size depending on the amount of potatoes you have. Then fill in with the potatoes, making a stack or pyramid of them. Cover with straw, hay or weeds, then boards, and have a good coat of dirt. If you will do this you will not freeze.

Dear Dolly—What do you think of a girl who will force herself on a couple that meets down the street, and take a box of candy from a man that he intended to give to his steady? The man doesn't like this girl but she has a way of sticking around and forcing herself upon him and getting in his way and trying to beat my time. She thinks she belongs to the best people in the community, and has a good steady now, but he does not live here and she has a different man every night and writes to him a dozen letters. She thinks she is having a good time, but if she keeps up that pace she will soon run out and find herself without a friend at all. Dolly, what do you think of a girl like this?

SOCIAL NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. John Jones of Second street reached the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding on last Sunday. Owing to the fact that Mrs. Jones is an invalid, and unable to leave home from the Jewish hospital, Cincinnati, where she is a patient, it was not possible to celebrate the golden event here in the manner hoped for. Still the day was not allowed to go unobserved with a family gathering. Mr. Jones went down to Cincinnati, Saturday, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Blanche Schmitz, of New York, and was joined by Mr. and Mrs. William Kessell and Mr. and Mrs. John Shaw, all of St. Louis. Mrs. Kessell is a sister and Mr. Shaw a brother of Mrs. Jones. Sunday all gathered at the hospital, bringing Mrs. Jones much cheer, with many presents and sympathetic messages from friends. It was a matter of deep regret that the only son, Ralph, of Philadelphia, could not be present, but he made the efforts of the old folks glad with a generous remembrance, and his wife sent fifty wonderful roses. John Jones and Margaret M. Shaw were married at the First Presbyterian church November 10th, 1873, by the pastor, Rev. Mr. Kelchum. The society report of the occasion says it was the event of that year of long ago, and the popularity of the couple was attested in the fact that the church never held a greater gathering. In the decades that have since elapsed, this admirable couple have gone on gathering friends to them, and the whole community sends its sympathetic greetings to Mrs. Jones on her sick bed, with the wish that the anniversary may prove the turning point in her illness and that she may soon return to health and home.

Mrs. L. B. Kingery has returned from a five weeks' visit with relatives and friends in Columbus, Westerville, Mt. Sterling and Williamsport.

RHEUMATISM
I have returned home after 2 years' service in France with rheumatism. While in France I obtained from a French physician a prescription for the treatment of Rheumatism. I have given it to thousands with wonderful results. The prescription costs me nothing. I ask those who are afflicted with it to send me your address. A postal will bring it. Write today.

Sallie Ann SAYS
I must tell you about the dresses that The Fashion is offering in a special sale at fifteen dollars and ninety-five cents. They are really wonderful values and ideal frocks for every day wear for school, office or the house. Among them are "charmeuseweaves", twills, crepe-knits, tricooses, crepe de chine, velvets and serges. Sizes range from 14 to 44. One style is of velvet in long sleeve effect with several rows of Indian-Chinese braid placed horizontally around the skirt. Another frock of "charmeuseweave", a glossy wool material similar to a twill, has neat lace collar and cuffs and two plaited panels down the front, touched with bright embroidery. Then there is a clever little velvet plaid in a light tan with Dutch collar, cuffs and belt of suede leather. Another frock of brown crepe knit takes its newness from the skirt which flares at the bottom in a series of knife-plaits. The neat little collar is hand embroidered. A clever little dress for the high school miss is of all wool pique twill with a little Lord Byron collar and gauntleted cuffs which are embellished with a little touch of bright embroidery. Then there are numerous tricooses in such shades as leather, cocoa, navy, black and even red. I consider these frocks the best values I have ever seen for the money, and if you need one or more inexpensive frocks, I would advise that you inspect these dresses. More Tuesday.

The Silver Link Class of Trinity Sunday School enjoyed their annual Halloween masque party at "Three Maids," the home of Leroy Compton, Monday, Oct. 29, with his niece, Miss Nina Compton, as the gracious hostess. Miss Compton was assisted in dispensing the hospitality by Miss Edith Johnson. The girls motored out early in the evening, accompanied by several of their mothers. The large living-room was transformed with Halloween decorations, and before the large fire-place, various Halloween stunts, games and contests were enjoyed, among them bobbing for apples and fortune-telling. The most interesting feature of the evening was a miscellaneous shower tendered Mrs. Howard McNamara (Bessie Dolly), the most recent bride of the class. At the appointed hour the bride, Compton brought in a large basket filled with gifts for the charming bride, who will make her future home in Williamson, W. Va.

After a very pleasant evening of delicious refreshments were served to Misses Compton and MacNess, Scilla Smith, Edith Allen, Hazel Miller, Margaret Robinson, Dorothy Goetz, Thelma Mann, Ruth Pyles, Mary Pfeiffer, Nina Compton, Edith Johnson, Mrs. Howard McNamara, Mrs. R. G. Johnson, Mrs. James Compton, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Compton, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Compton and son Bobbie.

The Friday Sewing Club will meet on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Morton Shumway, 1717 Timmons avenue.

Mrs. D. L. Artis will entertain the Pleasant Hour club on Wednesday afternoon at her home, 1111 Seventeenth street.

A very enjoyable outing was held recently at the Ketter farm back of Seafordville, when a jolly group of friends motored there for a welcome and unclouded noon. Those who took the party included Mr. and Mrs. George Hedges and son Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bohm and sons Paul and Charles, Mr. and Mrs. George Heisel and daughter Margaret and son Billie, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Patterson and son Leroy and Mr. and Mrs. H. Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillips Brooks (Lulu Fitch) of Ninth street, announce the birth of an eight pound boy this morning at the Hempstead Hospital.

The Board of Managers of the Hopedale Home will meet tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the home on Millbrook Road.

The members of the Ladies' Missionary Society and the Ketchum Auxiliary of the Second Presbyterian church will hold a joint all-day mission study class at the church, Thursday, November 8th, beginning promptly at ten o'clock. The book, "Creative Forces in Japan," will be studied. Luncheon will be served at a minimum price. The ladies are asked to report to their president not later than today, whether or not they can be present.

The Opportunity Auxiliary of the Second Presbyterian church will meet this evening at the home of Miss Mary Louise Paff on Franklin avenue. The girls are asked to bring their needles for the big County Fair to be held Friday night to this meeting.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
by Olive Roberts Barton

MISTER TURKEY BUZZARD'S FAVOR

"In Mistah Turkey Buzzard," said the big bird with a twinkle in his eye.

Nancy and Nick had climbed up into a buttonwood tree in Dixie Land when they noticed a big bird flying slowly round in circles over their heads.

Each circle was a little lower than the others, and pretty soon, with a couple of flaps of his great wings, the bird settled on the ground at their feet.

"Good day," he said hospitably. "What you all doin'?"

"We're just sittin' here," answered Nick. "We're just usin' to see if everybody in Dixie Land is all right. What's your name, please?"

"In Mistah Turkey Buzzard," said the big bird with a twinkle in his eye. "I'm down south here, we consider it polite for strangers to tell their names first."

"We're Nancy and Nick, the Twins," answered Nancy, who felt that Nick had done enough talking. "And now Mister Turkey Buzzard, have you any troubles?"

"Not so many," answered Mister Buzzard. "But still I have a few. I wish you would tell the Fairy Queen, please, to send a few more mice and beetles and bats down to Dixie Land. Also a few bees and wasps, rather a great many bees and wasps and hornets and yellow jackets."

"What for?" asked Nick. "What for?"

Mrs. Wilbur Robinson and children, Marion and Richard, have returned from a visit with the former's sister, Mrs. Joseph J. Krause, of Ironton.

Mrs. M. S. Garrett and children have gone to Ashland, Ky., to spend a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John W. Layne.

Mr. and Mrs. R. G. McGugin and two daughters, Helen and Betty Jane, of Ironton, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Huettis of 1715 Hutchins street.

A pleasant surprise party and house warming was tendered Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Patterson, at their new home on Eighth street Saturday night. The guests brought with them well filled baskets of good things to eat and at the close of an informal evening a French lunch was served to the following:

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Robbitt and children, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel White, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bohm, Mr. and Mrs. George Bessley and son Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. George Hartman and children.

The Merry Matrons will meet on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Paul Gable, 1517 Eleventh street, instead of at the home of Mrs. Don Nickel as previously announced.

The Women's Home Missionary Society of Bigelow church will meet on Tuesday afternoon, November 6th, at the home of Mrs. Floyd Fuller, 1010 Franklin avenue. The meeting will be in charge of Group 5 with the following as the assistant hostesses: Mrs. Jessie Foster, chairman; Mrs. Anna Adams, Mrs. Charles L. Spencer, Mrs. O. E. Rieck, Mrs. Floyd C. Fuller, Mrs. L. F. Nollendorfer, Mrs. Frank D. Dault, Mrs. Charles G. Cox.

The devotions will be led by Mrs. Cox and Mrs. Spencer will give a review of the study book. This will be Thanksgiving Day, and all members are asked to bring their offering to the meeting. A report will also be read from the box of supplies recently sent to a minister in Kansas. This will be a very important meeting and all members are urged to be present.

The Young Women's Sodality of St. Mary's Church will hold a bazaar and social in District Hall on Wednesday afternoon and evening of this week. There will be booths of fancy articles suitable for Christmas presents, and also booths of candy and other refreshments. The children are especially invited to attend the afternoon's festivities as there will be a fish pond and various other entertainment arranged for their pleasure. In the evening cards and dancing will furnish diversion for the older folks. The bazaar's orchestra will furnish the music for the dancing and the general public is cordially invited to attend.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Trinity Church will meet on Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of Mrs. James Williams, 1747 Fifth street, with the following assistant hostesses: Mrs. John A. Quaker, Mrs. C. N. Smith, Mrs. W. V. Anderson, Mrs. Russell W. Anderson, Mrs. T. B. Smith, and Mrs. L. H. Marsh.

The devotions will be in charge of Mrs. C. N. Smith, while Mrs. J. F. Dudley will have charge of the program. A large attendance is desired.

Candidates for School Board

At the earnest solicitation of their many friends—men and women who are anxious to keep the Portsmouth schools free from politics, E. C. Jackson and Conrad Roth, whose names were ruled off the ticket because of a mere technicality, have decided to actively enter the campaign for members of the Board of Education at next Tuesday's election. More than 20,000 sample ballots have been printed and will be distributed this week that the electors may know exactly how to vote for these two candidates. There are three blank spaces on the school board ticket. Write the names of E. C. Jackson and Conrad Roth in two of these blank spaces and place an X opposite their names. Remember the X is absolutely necessary. A sample ballot is printed below—cut it out, take it with you to the booth and you will then make no mistake as to how to vote.

Trained Nurses Praise
The Merits Of Tanlac

One of the outstanding features in connection with the Tanlac treatment is the large number of professionally trained nurses who have found the medicine of such wonderful merit that they have come out with public statements telling of the remarkable results accomplished by its use. Owing to the wide experience of nurses with various medicines and in the care of the sick, what they have to say about Tanlac will be read with exceptional interest by the public generally.

Mrs. L. A. Borden, 425 Pontiac avenue, Seattle, Wash., a graduate of the National Temperance Hospital, Chicago, and for many years a leader in her profession, pays the following tribute to Tanlac:

"From my long experience as a nurse I do not hesitate to say Tanlac is Nature's most perfect remedy. I have used it exclusively for seven years in the treatment of my charity patients. For keeping the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels functioning properly and for toning up the system in general, Tanlac has no equal."

Mrs. J. A. Lorentzen, graduate of Bellevue Hospital, New York, now a wealthy and influential resident of 285 Faxon avenue, San Francisco, says:

"In all my experience as a nurse, I never found a stomach medicine and tonic that compares with Tanlac. My own health was terrible five years ago and although I spent hundreds of dollars in a vain search for relief from nervousness, indigestion and my generally run-down condition, it remained for Tanlac to give me back my health, and I have enjoyed splendid health ever since. I can sincerely recommend Tanlac to anyone."

Mrs. Cora Lynch, well-known practical nurse, 2391 Avenue C, Birmingham, Ala., expresses her gratitude to Tanlac in the following words:

"For three or four years I had suffered from a combination of stomach, liver and kidney disorders, could not assimilate my food and was almost constantly suffering from pains in different parts of my body. Tanlac restored my health splendidly. I now keep it in the house and take a little when not feeling right. It never disappoints me."

Mrs. Mary Earle, 1531 North Twentieth street, Omaha, Neb., for fifteen years a practical nurse, recently stated:

"I can recommend Tanlac not only because of what it has done for me, but also because of what I have seen it do for others. After a long spell of typhoid my brother was so weak he could barely walk from one chair to another. I gave him Tanlac and it was simply marvelous the way it built him up. Nursing him through that long illness left me weak and exhausted. I could eat but little and my food hurt me. Tanlac restored my strength and health and built me up fifteen pounds in weight. As a nurse and user of Tanlac I give it my unqualified endorsement."

"Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 57,000,000 bottles sold."

Broad Field
For Engineers

HOUGHTON, Mich., November 4.—(By The Associated Press).—Convinced that the engineer of the future will be called upon to solve industrial, economic, governmental and social problems, as well as those in his own science, the Society of the Promotion of Engineering Education and the National Industrial Conference announced today that an inquiry is to be made "to develop, broaden and enrich engineering education."

To aid in the study which is expected to lead to a readjustment of curriculum in engineering colleges, the Carnegie Corporation has voted $100,000. This will be applied over a three year period of study following in a large number of scientific schools throughout the country.

A board of investigation and coordination to work with a director in carrying out the study is announced with Charles F. Scott, head of the electrical engineering school at Yale, as chairman. Other members are M. E. Cooley, dean of the University of Michigan Engineering Department; D. C. Jackson, professor of electrical engineering at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Dr. F. W. McNair, president of the Michigan College of Mines at Houghton, and J. H. Dunlap, secretary of the American Society of Engineers.

Various engineering societies are to be asked to appoint counselors to act in an advisory capacity with the board.

BEWARE THE
COUGH OR COLD
THAT HANGS ON

Chronic coughs and persistent colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, a scientific creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with twofold action: it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and kills the germ.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by the medical fraternity as the greatest healing agency for the treatment of chronic coughs and colds and other forms of throat and lung troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes while the creosote goes on to the stomach and attacks the seat of the trouble and destroys the germ that leads to consumption. Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of chronic coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma, catarrhal bronchitis, and other forms of throat and lung disease, and is excellent for preventing the system after colds or the flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter how long it has been present, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. Creomulsion Co., Atlanta, Ga.—Advertisement.

The Kappa Sigma Pi and Phi Beta Pi chapters will hold annual installation service on Monday evening of this week at 7:30 o'clock in the church auditorium with Rev. Cross in charge. All members are requested to be present, and a hearty welcome is extended to the public. A silver offering will be taken, the proceeds of which is to be used in the promotion of Pi missionary work, both at home and abroad.

The Phi Beta Pi will meet at 7:30 o'clock on Tuesday evening in the club rooms for regular business session. A class of new members will be initiated at that time. Bring your dues.

The Cornerstone class will meet Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. G. A. Kemp, 1905 Eleventh street. Assisting hostesses are Mrs. O. S. Kent, J. D. Jordan and Miss Ida Warman.

The Woman's Home Missionary Society will pick a barrel on Thursday afternoon of this week at the home of Mrs. Aaron Clark on Mount street. The barrel is to go to a minister's family in Wisconsin. All members and friends of the society are invited. Contributions will be welcomed from anybody, and they may consist of money, clothing or anything suitable for use in a needy family.

The King's Daughters' Class will meet Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock with Mrs. Clarence Artis of Seventh street.

There was an unusual large attendance at the Manly church services on Sunday evening. A splendid soulful message, entitled "The Fast Young Man," was delivered by the Pastor, Rev. Preston A. Cross. Very inspiring music was rendered by the large chorus choir, together with Miss Thelma Kidd as Soloist.

Committee To Banquet. A group of 20 men have been selected to comprise a Dining Committee, who are to plan for the erection of the new "Manly Church." These men will banquet Thursday evening of this week in the basement of the church, at which time an executive committee, together with various other committees, will be chosen. The supper will be served at 6:30 P. M. by members of the Liberty Sunday School Class.

Auto Plunges Off Trail; 2 Women Hurt

Mrs. Joe Black and Miss Lillian Mays of Charleston were seriously injured and Mr. Black and Frank Shober narrowly escaped injury about five o'clock Sunday afternoon when Mr. Shober's big touring car figured in an accident on Scioto Trail near the Feurt farm. Mr. Shober sent his machine to the side of the road over the edge of the trail in an effort to avoid a collision with a machine coming toward him after a Ford had shifted out into the middle of the road in front of him as he intended to drive around it.

The machine turned upside down and was caught inside as the curtains were up. To men were able to crawl out but the women had to be helped out from under the big machine.

The four were on their way home from Cincinnati where they had attended the races Saturday. They left Charleston Friday and expected to arrive home late last night.

They had made splendid time and had remarked of how fortunate they were when they got over train crossings without accidents. Near the Feurt farm Mr. Shober speeded up a little to pass a Ford that was just ahead but as he swung out into the road to go around the machine the driver instead of remaining on the right side of the road drove into the middle of the paved roadway and prevented Mr. Shober from getting ahead. He could not stop and to go ahead far to the left side of the road would have made a head-on collision with a machine coming from Portsmouth. Mr. Shober turned sharply and sent the car over the side of the road and as it went over the slight embankment it turned over. The wheels were up in the air when the machine came to a final stop.

Passing motorists stopped and helped the two men get the women from under the machine. They were rushed to Hempstead hospital in automobiles before Lynn's ambulance arrived. There Dr. J. W. Fitch attended them and had X-rays taken of Mrs. Black's cheek bone and nose and Miss Mays' chest and collar bone. Mrs. Black sustained a slight fracture of the right cheek bone, the same injury causing a nose injury. The X-ray taken of Miss Mays' chest showed several ribs broken. Her right collar bone was also slightly fractured causing a slight pressure on nerves which resulted in a partial paralysis of the right hand.

Both women spent a very restless night due to multiple bruises and and shock but this morning were resting so much better that an effort was to be made to remove them home via O. and O. train this afternoon.

The big touring car, a practically new Stevens was brought to the city on its own power.

A Soldier's Reply
To Supt. Druhott
"Who Won the War?"

Supt. Druhott, of Lucasville,

Sir:—We noticed the statement in Sunday's Times with reference to your three years across the seas to stamp out Kaiserism, and your extremely unmanly attitude thereby to try to use your war record to cast reflection upon a man whose patriotism is above reproach.

Did America's part in the war last three years (the time during which you admit you fought) or did it last only a little more than half that long? Then did you tell the truth when you said THREE YEARS or was this assertion merely a "smoke screen"?

Those of us who have gone to school at some time or other under Supt. McCowen's supervision, those of us who know him so well, and those of us who may have done in the war even as much as you admit you did (some of us having been wounded in action at the front, resent your mean, contemptible reference in so far as it was directed against McCowen. Aren't you satisfied to be a silent hero like General Pershing or Sargent York, or must you parade forever your war trophies?

Yours truly, Ex-Soldiers of the A. E. F.
TED CORNWELL,
LEROY McCASLIN,

Protest

To a reasonable public we wish to state that Supt. E. O. McCowen has the hearty support of a great majority of the teachers of the county, that he is the friend of the humblest teacher, that he has at all times the good of the boys and girls above everything else. He has never attempted to force teachers to do anything, nor are we his servants for fear of losing our jobs.

Mr. McCowen is known in educational circles as second to no superintendent in the state. He is untiring in effort, working day and night and spending his own money in the interest of education for the boys and girls, and many of them are enjoying advantages which they would not have but for him. This was not even suggested by Supt. McCowen.

SCIENTISTS PROVE VALUE OF FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE

Remarkable Analysis by Harvey A. Sell, Ph. D., of New York Scientist in Analytical Chemistry

Declares the Pure Food Elements Are So Perfectly Blended by Exclusive Process That It Is One of the Most Valuable Nutrients Known

DR. SELL STATES THAT INGREDIENTS ARE SO PREPARED THAT THEY ARE EASILY TAKEN UP BY WEAKENED SYSTEM

Report Also Proves The Value of Father John's Medicine as a Body Builder and That It Is Free from Alcohol and Poisonous Drugs

FATHER JOHN'S MEDICINE HAS HAD OVER 68 YEARS OF SUCCESS FOR COLDS AND COUGHS

Qualified experts, after careful scientific analysis, have declared that Father John's Medicine is one of the most valuable nutrients known and is made of ingredients of the highest quality.

Confident of their ability to prove every claim made for Father John's Medicine, the makers engaged Sell, Ph.D., and Rush, three eminent research chemists of New York City, to make independent tests of Father John's Medicine purchased in the open market.

Dr. Harper A. Sell, who was a former government analyst in the Food and Drugs Division, also visited the laboratory at Lowell, Mass., where Father John's Medicine is made, took samples of every ingredient and of the completed medicine and at the same time made a thorough examination of the process of compounding.

So thorough and complete was the analysis that it extended over nearly a year, and at its completion certificates of analysis were issued which are now on file and may be seen at any time. The report states:

"The ingredients are all of the first quality as determined by the standards of the United States Pharmacopoeia."

"The cod liver oil used deserves favorable comment."

"We have never examined finer cod liver oil, and it retains its excellence in the finished medicine as we found it."

"In Father John's Medicine the cod liver oil seems to be broken up to as high a degree as seems now possible by mechanical means, and this should facilitate its absorption."

The report also says that the globules in Father John's Medicine under the microscope are ten times smaller than the globules in milk, which is said to be Nature's finest emulsion. Summarizing their findings, the chemists say:

"Father John's Medicine is made of the purest cod liver oil scientifically blended with other ingredients, pleasantly flavored, permanent in form, and absolutely free of alcohol or drugs of any kind."

In the light of present knowledge, it seems to be unquestioned that cod liver oil, when given in palatable form, such as Father John's Medicine, is one of the most valuable reconstructive nutrients known."

FACTS THAT DR. SELL HAS ACTUALLY PROVED

This analysis by Dr. Sell of the ingredients and process by which Father John's Medicine is made, definitely proves the claims that have been made for it. The analysis showed that every ingredient was of the first quality, that the exclusive process of making so blended all the elements that it is the finest preparation of its kind on the market. It also established beyond question the fact that no alcohol and no dangerous narcotics are in any form are used in Father John's Medicine. Read the story of the analysis in detail. It contains facts you ought to know.

PRESCRIPTION WAS WRITTEN 68 YEARS AGO

The True History of Father John's Medicine

Father John's Medicine was originally prescribed for Father John O'Brien, of Lowell, on June 6, 1855, and from him received its name.

The prescription was first compounded at the old drug store on Merriam St., which was established in 1827 and is still doing business at the same location, although modernized and brought up to date, of course.

For many years the prescription was put in one bottle at a time, at this drug store, and as Father John himself recommended the medicine to his parishioners and they in turn proving its value, told others about it, the use of the medicine has constantly increased.

The history of Father John's Medicine is one of steady growth in ever-widening circles. Its value is known now from coast to coast.

"The old drug store used deserves favorable comment."

WASHINGTON, November 5.—(By the Associated Press)—American claims against Germany, resulting from the loss of life, personal injuries and property loss sustained in the torpedoing of the liner Lusitania were upheld today by the mixed claims commission. It ruled at the same time, however, that the German government was not liable for punitive or vindictive damages, or "for premeditated mental anguish."

Although not dealing with any specific cases, the finding of the commission laid down certain general principles which will have the effect also of diminishing more than 3,000 claims for return of war risk insurance premiums paid by American shippers during the war. New School Building To Go Up In Northmoreland

The board of education met in special session at 1 o'clock today to consider the school situation in Northmoreland. The board was informed by the Northmoreland pupils that the Northmoreland pupils could be taken care of at least another year. After school opened this fall similar assurances were given. But unfortunately New Boston has suddenly found her schools so overcrowded that they can not take care of the pupils any longer. There are also other pupils in Northmoreland about 175 pupils of compulsory school age, about 75 of these can not be accommodated at New Boston and must, therefore, be transported to the Garfield school until quarters can be established for them in Northmoreland.

The board of education at its last meeting in October directed that a committee not only look for a site in Northmoreland, with a view to erecting a permanent school there before next September, but in the

The marriage of Miss Ruth Gene Atlas and Rabbi Louis Blustock will be quietly solemnized tomorrow afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Atlas, 1401 Kinney's Lane.

Mr. Theo. Webb recently entertained a group of young folks at his camp on the Harrisonville pike. After the sumptuous feast, the crowd enjoyed music and dancing. Toasting marshmallows over the blazing log fire provided the usual amount of fun and frolic and before leaving this cozy appointed place the young folks treated themselves to a song feast.

Those participating in the joyous affair were: Marguerite Black, Simon Williams, Mary Stout, Garland Kenn, Ruby Cryer, Dana Craigmyles, Margaret Bodmer, Ralston Mooney, Grace Money and Theo. Webb.

A delightful family reunion was held Sunday evening at the home of Mrs. Jennie Whitman, 804 Front street, celebrating her 70th birthday anniversary. An enjoyable feature of the celebration was a sumptuous chicken dinner served at six o'clock. Later a social evening was enjoyed, during which a fine musical program was rendered by Ansel Lamm and Alice Coriell. Relatives present included Mr. and Mrs. Holly Whitman, Mrs. Walter Bartlett, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McCarthy and family, Mrs. Robert Dahan and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gutky and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hamilton and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Guilkey and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Nickel and family, Charles Whitman and Clyde Whitman. Other guests present were Miss Margaret Murphy, Wylie McFerran, Olive and Ansel Lamm.

Mrs. Augusta M. Slazmacker of Columbus is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Kinsey of 1828 Summit street.

The following handsomely engraved cards were received by relatives here Saturday:

Smith College Club, New York. Dr. Jackson is well known in this city, as he is a brother of Dr. E. C. Jackson of Second street, and Mrs. M. J. Bowen of 1503 Fifth street. He is a Baptist minister now located at Waynesboro, N. C. The bride has also visited relatives here and will be remembered as a very charming and popular girl.

The Mervyn Kensington Club will meet on Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. George Clark on Moulton Place.

WARNING!

It has come to my attention from reliable sources that on tomorrow, election day, in certain sections of this city, there will be attempts made to violate our State Election Laws. This information and report may be unfounded, but I take this opportunity to warn those who have in mind to attempt such violations, that they will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law. Our City and County in late years have been free from such violations, and it is the duty of not only the officials, but the citizens of our City and County, to see that it remains free from such violations.

I want to ask all the citizens of this City, who believe in clean elections, to be on the alert for any violations of the law, and report same to the proper authorities and not use any discrimination as to any political party or individual in doing so.

Following are the Sections of our State Laws setting forth the different sections as to elections and prescribing the penalties for violation of same:

SECTIONS	PENALTY
13297 Registration fraudulently obtained 1 to 3 yrs imprisonment
13299 Registration by impersonating another	2 to 5 yrs; imprisonment
13252 Voting a resident of another state 1 to 5 yrs; imprisonment
13253 Voting not a resident of the County thirty days	1 to 3 yrs; imprisonment
13258 Voting by impersonating another 2 to 3 yrs; imprisonment
13260 Voting non-resident of county 1 to 5 yrs; imprisonment
13332 Voting under false name, etc. 1 to 3 yrs; imprisonment
13314 Receiving bribe 1 year in prison and disfranchised 5 yrs.
13312 Giving bribe 1 to 3 yrs; imprisonment

In addition to the above Sections there are several Sections of the State Election Laws covering many other lesser violations which are punishable by heavy fines.

Sheriff of Scioto County, Ohio

TO THE PEOPLE

RALPH CALVERT

The municipal campaign which is fast drawing to a close has so far as I am concerned, been conducted along clean lines. I regret exceedingly that my opponent has attempted to inject religious matters into the fight, because the people of Portsmouth have always lived in peace and harmony. The people, I know, are too far minded to be swayed by the late hour methods of the opposition to excite class hatred and religious jealousy.

As I have stated before, I owe no political debts to any one. I will go into office, if elected, free to make selections because of fitness and character. You can depend upon me giving everybody a fair hearing and a square deal.

On the platform of honesty, fairness and squareness, I solicit the support of the men and women of Portsmouth.

Local Legion Post To Observe Armistice Day

Plans for Portsmouth's celebration of the fifth Armistice Day, November 11, are being drafted this week by the local American Legion, James Dickey Post 23. Post Commander Harold Clayton has appointed the following committee on general arrangements: Walter T. Koezle, D. E. Gardner and Russell Ketter.

Tentative plans include a huge rally meeting Sunday afternoon at the High School Auditorium. The committee meets at the Legion Hall 10-11 o'clock to work out the details for the celebration.

To Study General Church Work

The congregation of All Saints' Church will hold the second meeting for the study of General Church Work, tomorrow, Tuesday evening, November 6th, at 7:45 o'clock. The subjects will be "Missions and Religious Education."

The leaders will be: Miss Anna Ross, Mrs. Watson Goddard and Mrs. J. Frost Davis.

At $29.75 a Sale of Frocks That Conform Delightfully With Fashion's Whims --- Values to $49.50

Charmingly youthful lines that identify these numerous models on sale as among the most desirable of the season, this special event in frocks at the special price of $29.75, has a wonderful appeal to the woman who feels that she ought to have an extra dress or two to go into the winter season.

A BLACK SATIN CANTON MODEL with long graceful panels on each side, each panel with three rows of fur, makes this particular style a very desirable one and a universal favorite.

A NAVY GEORGETTE FROCK combined with Chimmering to produce a model that is handsome and thoroughly covetable and its attractiveness is only augmented by its pretty fancy beaded girdle.

A BROWN GEORGETTE MODEL, made up with Jacquard Crepe thus forming a combination of beauty not to mention the pretty panels and fancy beaded girdle.

A BLACK SATIN DRESS with long sleeves and fancy cuffs just suits certain customers, especially since it has collar and vest of cream lace and the dress is button trimmed.

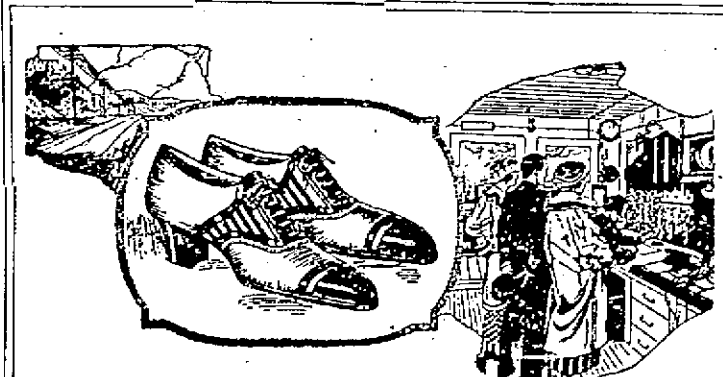

A NAVY SATIN MODEL, with draped skirt is also appealing and its full length sleeves make it a utility dress while the neat beading of blue and steel beads adds to its attractiveness.

A BLACK JACQUARD CREPE DRESS with a blouse back and draped sides, the drappings caught with a fancy buckle catches the eye of nearly every woman for there is something about it that makes you long to put it on.

A Tried and True Public Servant

J. EARL CHANDLER, City Auditor

The campaign is rapidly approaching its close, and I take this opportunity to ask the people, irrespective of party, to inquire into my fitness for the office of City Auditor to which I am seeking re-election. It has ever been my aim to protect the interest of the tax-payers, to see the public money is honestly expended. Despite the frantic appeals of the present administration, I have refused to deviate from this course. I believe the money raised by taxation should bring its full value and that it should not be spent simply because it is placed in the treasury. On numerous occasions, I have taken the people into my confidence and published the fact that I was guarding the treasury, by refusing to issue vouchers for illegal accounts. I want to state here that I have done my duty fearlessly—and if elected on next Tuesday, I will continue the policies that have characterized my official actions.

While I have made a determined effort to see as many electors as possible and present my candidacy, I know there are many whom I have not seen. I will appreciate your support, and assure you that it will ever be my aim to repay by rendering a good account of my stewardship. I know the public will give my candidacy a square deal—the people have reposed their confidence in me and there is nothing in my official acts for which I need apologize. I place my candidacy in your hands, believing you will accord me an overwhelming majority.

Respectfully

J. EARL CHANDLER

THE FOOL

BY CHANNING FOLLOCK

ILLUSTRATED BY R.W. SAWYER

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Clare Jewett, in love with the Reverend Daniel Gilchrist, marries Jerry Goodkind for his money. Jerry is dismissed from the fashionable Church of the Nativity in New York because of his radical sermons. Gilchrist is sent to the coal mines by Goodkind senior and wires that a big strike is settled. A delegation of strikers comes north to interview Jerry. They are received in Jerry's home, first Steedman, then Hennig and Umanski. They do not meet with success.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

"Don't mention it," he replied scornfully. "I'm very grateful, but—" She spoke haltingly. "But what?" "Never mind, we'll talk about it some other time."

Jerry moved toward her indignantly. "We'll talk about it now," he said with an air of finality. "I'll go," put in Gilchrist, starting for the door.

"No you won't," said Jerry, turning on him. "You made a crack about my leaving 24 hours before you did. Now how do you know when I left?" He turned to his wife. "If that's what you're sore about, for heaven's sake drop it. I'm sorry you've been alone and I've sent you a handsome gift as an apology."

"I don't want it," Clare put the scarf back on the table. "I don't want to be paid for shutting my eyes to any insulting thing you choose to do." "And I don't propose to be made a blackguard before strangers," said Jerry angrily.

"Dan isn't a stranger. And I don't want to make you a blackguard. Only—since you've insisted on the truth—Dan, when did my husband leave Black River?"

"I haven't seen him since Thursday," said Dan calmly. "As a matter of fact, I wasn't in Black River."

"Oh—" broke in Jerry. "Where were you?" "At the mines," answered Clare.

"Is that the truth?" asked Clare. "Of course, it's the truth," said Jerry. "And if it wasn't—I don't see that you have a right to ask questions. I haven't done anything that wasn't in the bargain. I haven't done anything every man doesn't do."

"Every man—perhaps—but one," Clare said wistfully. "My God. Now we've got it," exploded Jerry. "Gilchrist! He would only married him. It's good—because he says so. You should have been here a minute ago—when the company detective warned us not to mention Gilchrist to Joe Hennig."

"You mean—" Daniel started, surprised. "I mean Pearl Hennig," Jerry said sneeringly.

"Pearl Hennig?" Gilchrist was roused. "Why you—" He stopped and looked toward Clare. "You know that's not true."

"I know it's not true," put in Clare. "Oh, do you?" said Jerry doubtfully. As he spoke there came sounds of voices from the stairway. There was anger in the tones.

"Now listen—behave yourself," Steedman was saying. "Behave—hell!" shouted Joe Hennig angrily.

Jerry turned to the door. "Ask Hennig," he continued. "And before you make up your mind where I was yesterday, ask where he was."

Joe Hennig flung the door open as Jerry spoke. Steedman tugged nervously at his arm, but the stock workman advanced menacingly.

CHAPTER XII
The Unanswered Charge
HENNIG jerked himself free of the restraining arm and strode straight for Gilchrist. Daniel turned to meet him, bewildered, but with that calm look of unafraid in his eyes. Jerry waited uncertainly, and Clare looked on with tense interest.

"You—Gilchrist," stormed the irate intruder. "Where've you got my wife?" "I haven't got your wife, Hennig," Gilchrist's answer was as dispassionate as the query was frenzied.

"The hell you haven't," shouted Hennig. Gilchrist turned quickly to Clare. "You'd better go," he said.

Jerry was more sure of himself now. "I want her to stay," he interposed firmly. "What's it all about, Steedman?" "You can search me," was the answer. "Umanski stuck to us all the way home. When he left, I went in to have a talk with Joe alone—see? There was a telegram and he read it and—"

"And came here to ask Gilchrist: 'Where's my wife?'" Hennig put in. "She told me she was going to her sister's," Daniel answered coolly.

held a yellow slip to Jerry. "Read it!"

Jerry read: "Pearl ain't here. We ain't seen her. Aint she home?" Gilchrist heard, then turned to Hennig. "Maybe she is," he said.

"You know she ain't," said Joe. "And what if she is now? I don't want your leavings."

"Why do you say that?" asked Daniel calmly. "Ain't I seen you downtown with her? Ain't I found you with her when I came home unexpected? I knew you was stuck on her, and I warned you to stay away—didn't I?"

"You were mistaken," said Gilchrist. "Didn't I warn you?" persisted Hennig.

"Yes," said Daniel frankly. "And you came again—didn't you?" "Yes."

Jerry turned scoffing eyes on Clare. "Every man—but one!" he sneered. "I went first on your account," said Daniel, his eyes on Hennig and with no care for Jerry's scorn. "They told me you were in debt—and I went again because she asked me to. This disappearance looks queer, I admit, but people do get lost, or hurt, or taken to hospitals, and aren't identified."

Gilchrist's calm had sent the thought well into Hennig's fever. "You think—" he started, with a trace of conviction. "I think your wife's all right, Joe," Gilchrist resumed. "I don't think you ought to accuse her publicly until you're sure she's not."

"How in I gonna be sure?" Joe queried rather helplessly. "Suppose we ask the police to look for her," suggested Daniel.

Jerry saw the situation slipping. He was quick to step in. "What's the use of starting a hullabaloo!" he shot. "You don't want the woman accused publicly, but you're willing to spread the news so this man'll be ashamed to go back home. We all know the facts in the case, and the least said about it now the better."

He turned to Joe. "You're found her out. Let her go—and forget it." "I don't think he ought to forget it," it was the first time Clare had spoken. She had been surveying it all thoughtfully, doubtfully, uncertainly.

"No?" queried Jerry, eyebrows arched. "No," said Clare. "I don't think he ought to drop it now—until we all know the truth."

"Right," said Gilchrist, nodding. "I got to know the truth," put in Hennig. "I been crazy about her. Maybe that's a good idea—the police. I got to know the truth."

Again Jerry felt the peril of the situation. This time his action had to be positive, not just negative. "All right," he cut in. "Steedman! Where were you yesterday?"

"At the mines," answered the bewildered Max. "What part of the mines?" "All over."

"Did you see Gilchrist?" "No."

Daniel was staring at Clare now, watching her eyes and seeing the light of confidence change to the glare of disillusion. He was fighting something in his heart, something selfish. After all, he thought, her happiness transcended his.

"When did you see him last?" Jerry pursued. "Thurs—" Steedman saw his testimony was favorable to his questioner. He became bolder. "Yes, it was Thursday."

"Where?" "In Black River." "Alone?" "No."

"With whom?" "With Mrs. Hennig," Steedman answered emphatically, but he shifted uneasily. "Joe started at the words. He moved toward Gilchrist."

"I knew it," he shouted. "I'm gonna kill you." Jerry stepped between them. "You're going to keep quiet. But you wanted the truth and you've got it. I've known it all along." He turned to Clare, arrogantly. "Now who do you think is lying?"

"I don't understand," she said, bewildered. "Oh, yes, you do—" flung Jerry. "—but you won't admit it."

"I suppose that's it," she said resignedly. She picked up the fur piece and started for the music room. Daniel's eyes still followed her. "Clare!" he shouted as she reached for the door. "I don't care what any one believes but you."

"I'll believe you, Dan, if you'll only explain."

Jerry read in those eyes he faced the danger to himself.

SIX WOMEN ON IRONTON JURY

IRONTON, November 5.—Six women are on the grand jury drawn from the jury wheel and which has been ordered to report for duty on Tuesday, November 13, at 9 a. m.

The grand jury will be charged with investigation of two first degree murder charges, that against Mrs. Nevada Wood, who was bound over after a preliminary hearing before Squire Jmes in the death of her husband, whose relatives allege, died from the effects of poison, which they claim, she administered, and a similar charge against William Page, who was bound over by Mayor Stewart. Page is charged with having fatally shot Floyd James here on Sunday morning, October 14. James died shortly after he was wounded. The jury will also be charged with investigation of the case of William Faulkner, charged with criminal assault on his two daughters. Faulkner was later slightly wounded by his son following an altercation over the trouble and is now a patient in a local hospital here.

Four Teams After Conference Title

CHICAGO, November 5.—Four teams—Illinois, Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota—were in the first place berth of the Western Conference today and undefeated but eliminated the Maroon team and, as a consequence, is holding its place in the conference with most assurance. The Illinois still have Wisconsin and Ohio to dispose of—two eleven which in the past have been difficult for the Illini team.

Michigan, forced to fight desperately to defeat Iowa, 9 to 3 Saturday, still has Wisconsin and Minnesota to dispose of before the season is over.

Minnesota, in adding the fourth consecutive defeat to Northwestern's season record, showed a strong scoring machine that may upset Michigan in the final game of the season, November 24.

Somewhat in the background due to a resting period this past week, Wisconsin lies ready to live up to its reputation by upsetting Illinois in the feature game of the present week. They will take a team of strength to Urbana Saturday. Purdue managed to score on Notre Dame in a non-conference game won by Notre Dame, 34 to 7. Ohio State easily defeated Denison, 42 to 0. Indiana beat Hanover, 32 to 0.

Chicago plays Indiana next Saturday. Ohio State meets Purdue, Northwestern will play Lake Forest and Michigan is to meet the United States Marines.

TO THE VOTERS OF PORTSMOUTH

As citizens you are interested in Good Government.

As interested voters YOU are anxious to put into office men who will treat "PUBLIC OFFICE AS PUBLIC TRUST."

On next Tuesday YOU will select a Municipal Judge, who will, during his term preside over a court which handles more business of more citizens than all of the other courts combined.

If elected to preside over this court my motto shall be "MY JUDGESHIP IS A PUBLIC TRUST."

There are two candidates for this office and their names appear on a separate ballot; at previous elections it has been found that quite a large number of electors have failed to vote for either of these candidates. As good citizens I urge you not to overlook this separate ballot; vote for your choice and I will sincerely appreciate your support.

Respectfully yours,

WILLIAM R. SPRAGUE.

Candidate for Municipal Judge on SEPARATE JUDICIAL BALLOT.

Sciotoville and Wheelersburg

SCIOTOVILLE

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Lydia Klingner, and Mr. Raymond Bourgholtzer, which took place Wednesday, October 31st, at eight o'clock in the evening at the home of the officiating minister, Rev. H. B. Ketchum, of the Wheelersburg Baptist church. The impressive single ring ceremony was performed in the presence of a small number of invited guests. The bride and groom were attended by Miss Martha Ketchum and Mr. Ezra Robinson. The bride, an attractive brunette, was lovely in a frock of dark blue satin, with tan accessories. Miss Ketchum also wore dark blue. Mrs. Bourgholtzer is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. King of Eastern avenue and is popular with the younger set.

Mr. Bourgholtzer is the son of Mrs. William Bourgholtzer of Court street, Portsmouth, and is the proprietor of drug store on Harding avenue. The couple will make their home this winter in Portsmouth with the groom's mother.

Mrs. J. L. Joyner will entertain the members of the Ladies' Friendly Bible Class of the Berean Baptist church at her home on Harding avenue, tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock. A full attendance is desired.

Next Sunday will be Rally Day of the Berean Baptist Sunday School. A splendid program will be rendered. W. W. Hornum's orchestra will furnish special music.

The regular mid-week prayer services will be held at the Berean Baptist church Wednesday evening at 7:00 o'clock, followed by the Bible study.

Mrs. Alfred Bennett of Fifth street has returned from Cincinnati, where she was called by the illness of her son, Walter Bennett, who sustained serious burns while at work in a steel mill in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Keller entertained with a charming Halloween party at their home near Minford Saturday evening. After several hours of music and merriment, an appetizing lunch was served.

WHEELERSBURG

The Whatsoever Class of the M. E. Church will meet tomorrow evening at the Hartman House with Mrs. Clarence Fritz, Miss Eleanor Jones and Miss Esther Clemens as hostesses.

The members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the M. E. church will meet Thursday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of Mrs. E. O. McCowen. The assistant hostesses for the occasion will be Mrs. Robert Clutter, Miss Mary Lipker, Mrs. A. B. Preston and Miss Edna Reigel. A full attendance is desired.

Mrs. M. Callison will welcome the members of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the M. E. Church to her home Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock. All members are requested to be present.

NEW BOSTON

Cecil McCormick, of Vine street, was the guest of David Eagleous, of Wheelersburg, Sunday.

Miss Rufe Caudill, of 4138 Gallia avenue, had as guests Sunday, Gilford Riley and sister, Miss Mildred Riley, of Sciotoville.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Swords, of 2427 Oak street, had as guests for dinner Sunday, Misses Mildred and Ethel Correll and Joseph Rolfe, of Walrus Station.

Millbrook Council No. 77 D. of A. will meet in regular session in Davis

Hall this evening. Team practice for the big class infirmary which will be held on Monday evening, November 12th, will take place at this meeting.

The many friends of Mrs. Anna Powell, of Rhodes avenue, will be pleased to learn that she is steadily recovering from an extended illness.

Mrs. Bertha Gramer and son Leslie, and William Kaseholt, of 3131 Stanton avenue, have returned from a motor trip to Nelsonville, where they were the guests of Mrs. Gramer's daughter, Mrs. Oscar Bussy.

Mrs. Cline Black, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Slaughter, of Glenwood avenue, is ill at her home on the Belmont Vista pike.

WAVERLY

Oliver Hostie is laid up for a few days with a mashed foot which was caused by a fall while at work on the D. & C. section crew last Wednesday. Although very painful the injured member is improving satisfactorily.

Judge L. G. Dill, Frank Flowers and Leo Moore were visitors in Columbus Thursday.

Tom McLean went to Columbus Friday to have his injured eye examined by Doctor C. M. Mooney. He made the trip by motor and was accompanied by Mrs. McLean, Mrs. F. L. Hamilton and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Greenbaum.

The Inter Cities Oil Company has just installed a new gasoline pump at their filling station adjoining Greenbaum's store. The pump is a new model and has been adopted by the company for all their stations.

Morehart Karl Schausell has installed a lunch counter in his confectionery on Market street. It is doing a thriving business in the lunch department.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Rosanna Micklethwait, widow of the late Richard S. Micklethwait, for years a well-known resident of this city, passed away at 12:20, Monday, morning, her death taking place at the home of her son, Dr. Gilbert Micklethwait, of 1224 Twentieth street, and was caused by pneumonia following a week's illness.

Mrs. Micklethwait, who was 88 years old last April, leaves one son, Dr. Gilbert Micklethwait, her husband passing away in this city in September, 1914. She is survived by the following sisters and brothers: J. O. Stockham, of South Webster; Mrs. Caroline Gilbert, of 1311 Second street; Mrs. Anne Crull, of Minford; George W. Stockham, of Sedgwick, Col.; J. M. Stockham, of this city; Mrs. Elizabeth Deemer, of Columbus; Harry D. Stockham, of Martinsburg, Col.; Samuel Stockham, of Ayarado, Col.; and Mrs. Etta Brown, of La Mesa, N. M.

Mrs. Micklethwait was a life-long resident of Portsmouth and was an active and faithful member of Trinity church and affiliated with its various auxiliaries. She was a daughter of Harvey and Catherine Stockham, pioneer residents of this section, and who formerly resided at Minford.

Mrs. Micklethwait was kind and generous to all and will be missed. Two weeks ago, when she was taken ill, she was moved from her own home, Ninth and Gay streets, to her son's home.

Owen D. Rathiff, a native of Fayette County, West Virginia, but a resident of Ironton for the past 57 years, was found dead at the home of Mrs. Louis Foll at 718 South Second street, when James Sutton entered the house and investigated after noticing that the lights were burning, and the front door ajar. He found Mr. Rathiff, who was 81 years old, lying in the front room fully clothed. Indications are that he died suddenly during the morning hours as it appeared he had toppled from a chair onto the floor.

Mr. Rathiff for past years has been living with his daughter, Mrs. Fell, and was alone in the house when the death angel called.

Mr. Rathiff's wife died on September 15, 1913, but the following children mourn the demise of a beloved father: Mrs. Louis Foll, of South Second street; Mrs. Henry Farmer, of Ironton; Mrs. Henry Benjamin, of Columbus; Mrs. Martha Hoosier, of Allen, W. Va.; and Charles Rathiff, of Wheelersburg, Ohio. One sister, Miss Maggie Rathiff, of Detroit, also survives.—Irontonian.

Miss Eliza McClure

Mrs. Eliza McClure, life-long resident of this city, died Sunday at the home of Mrs. H. E. Norton, on south Fourth street, where she had made her home for several years.—Irontonian.

SUITS DISMISSED

Approved entries have been filed in the office of the clerk of courts dismissing the following suits: Marie Blankenship against Ernest Blankenship; J. W. Perdue against Sam Davis and others; Laura Woodhead against Albert S. Moore; Mary Nease against Ollie Nease; and Nellie Newman against Roy Newman.

AUTHORITY GRANTED

Judge Thomas, in Common Pleas court, today granted the application of the trustees of Pleasant Green Baptist church and First Lutheran church to borrow money on their church properties.

The Pleasant Green trustees were authorized to borrow $5,000, and the First Lutheran the sum of $4,000.

SUIT ON NOTES

Suit to recover the sum of $2,914.01, claimed to be due on coupon notes, was brought by Manufacturers' Finance Co., Baltimore, Md., suing through Attorneys Grossman and Grossman, Cleveland, against A. E. Reeg, of this city.

COMMISSIONERS IN SESSION

County commissioners were in session at the court house today, as it was "voucher day," and the board spent the day principally in approving vouchers and allowing the semi-monthly schedule.

CHAPMAN UNDER ARREST

Deputy Clerk John W. Hall was notified today that Leslie Chapman, Portsmouth man, is under arrest at Logan, W. Va., where he is held as a parole violator for the Ohio penitentiary.

Chapman was sentenced to the penitentiary by Judge Thomas in March, 1917, under a nonsupport indictment, and state officers are now making an effort to return him to this state.

Sheriff Danahoe holds an indictment for Chapman, charging him with nonsupport.

CONVICTED OF LARCENY

Ben Crump, negro, was found guilty at a hearing in Squire Morgan's court Monday of a charge of larceny in connection with the theft of a shirt valued at $3 from the Virginia Supply Co., and the magistrate fined him $25 and costs and sent him to jail for ten days.

RHODES UNDER ARREST

Edward Rhodes was taken into custody by county officers Monday and brought to the county jail, where he is held to answer to an indictment charging him with abandoning his legitimate children.

STEVENS RELEASED ON BOND

Elliot Stevens, Haverhill man, charged with second degree murder for the alleged unlawful killing of "Hence" Smith, horse trader, on October 1 last, was released from custody today when friends signed his $5,000 bond.

Stevens recently surrendered to the officers and waived preliminary examination when arraigned before Squire George S. Morgan. The grand jury will probe the case at its next session.

Stewart McNeely, companion of Stevens, who is also charged with second degree murder in connection with the killing, also waived examination and he is out under bond.

RELEASED ON BOND

Turner Boyd, who was apprehended last Friday by county officers in a raid on his whisky-making plant at Crawford station, Vernon township, was released from jail today under $2,000 bond pending his hearing on a charge of possessing liquor unlawfully before Squire Morgan next week.

In Municipal court Monday R. E. Murray was fined $11.20 for intoxication while Bert Dale, Dallas Murphy, Howard Campbell, Clyde Worthington, Harve Redden and Henry Bonner, arrested for drunkenness, failed to respond and their bonds were declared forfeited.

F. L. Jamison, charged with disorderly conduct, forfeited his bond by failing to appear, and Ralph Moore, charged with disorderly conduct in a complaint filed by C. J. Taylor, pleaded not guilty and the hearing will be held Wednesday.

Andrew Leslie, charged with assault in a complaint filed by his wife, Mary Leslie, was continued until Friday for hearing at the instance of the defendant. The complaint against Leslie, who is an N. and W. detective, came as an aftermath of an altercation at his home at a late hour last night. It is claimed. Police claim that Mrs. Leslie complained of her husband knocking her downstairs and then drawing a gun on her after the midnight hour Sunday. According to police the entire neighborhood was aroused by the row at the Leslie home, in the vicinity of Ninth and Offshore streets. Mr. Leslie said he would give his version of the trouble at his hearing.

Scioto County's Arch Politician
E. O. McCowen Faces Sure Defeat.

Two years ago the People's candidates for the County Board of Education faced the McCowen Political Organization in what seemed to every voter a losing battle — so strongly were they entrenched in every hamlet and precinct — but the people won in one of the most spectacular campaigns ever witnessed in Scioto county. And, although handicapped again this time by the fact that the voters will have to write the names of the people's candidates on the ballots, James A. Folsom and Smith Crull are confident of winning by an overwhelming majority. Hundreds of honest voters who helped the McCowen forces two years ago are now working unceasingly for the People's Candidates and requests for sample ballots are coming in from every corner of the county.

It is quite evident that the McCowen Faction thought they would have everything their own way after they were successful in having the names of James A. Folsom and Smith Crull ruled off the official ballots — they believed that that act alone would bring them victory, but

THAT DEED MADE HUNDREDS OF VOTES FOR THE PEOPLE'S CANDIDATES

They underestimated the intelligence and love of fair play of citizens of Scioto County, who have resented this shameful act. The people realized that any faction that would resort to such underhanded methods could not be intrusted with the government of our schools.

So sure were they that the blow would discourage the people's candidates and cause them to be defeated — or they were so ashamed of their dirty work — that they never mentioned it in public nor in print until they became frightened and apprehensive at the unexpected growth of public opinion against them. So they thought something had to be done and their chief decided to come out to Lucasville and settle matters out there first.

THAT WAS HIS SECOND BIG MISTAKE

Although accompanied by his supporters from other parts of the county, besides all of them in Valley Township, and encouraged by their presence, not one of them could or would raise his voice in his defense after Superintendent of the Lucasville schools, H. H. Druhot, uncovered the treachery, the fraud, and the duplicity not only of his words that night, but of his past actions. They couldn't. And Mr. Ord Thompson, candidate for the County Board was present. Previous to that night we can conceive (though it is hard to do) that Mr. Thompson might have believed in the integrity of his chief — but how he could listen to the facts as they were unfolded by Prof. Druhot, backed up by proofs in black and white, which his chief had previously admitted, and had brought forward himself as charges against Prof. Druhot; now he could have watched the man he has morally backed and expected to stand by if elected, risk bodily injury by what was evidently an attempt to break up the meeting — by sneaking up behind the speaker to secure possession of some papers which he said he thought were his — how Mr. Thompson can, after that night, face the people with a clear conscience and ask them to vote for him to stand for McCowenism is beyond our conception. We make this statement because there were many other McCowen men there that night, who frankly, honestly and publicly renounced him and before another day was passed were helping the People's Candidates to win.

Mr. Voter you read the facts about that speech in yesterday's paper. If you didn't, hunt it up and read it. It is a revelation of the methods employed by Supt. E. O. McCowen in his administration of Scioto County Schools — and you too will see why red blooded men and women all over the county are fighting him.

What if those papers were his — the ones he tried to get, behind Supt. Druhot's back? Why did he want them just at that moment unless some of them have been forged? If they had been genuine and as represented to the audience Supt. Druhot could not have used them to any advantage. But for some very big reason Mr. McCowen went after them.

ANOTHER BIG MISTAKE

And the Executive Committee of the Teachers' Association made another mistake in permitting their names to be used in defense of such a man as Mr. McCowen has demonstrated himself to be. This but adds another and stronger proof to our contentions that there is too much politics in the school system. That's just exactly the reason we are fighting — and some honest people have not believed that we were right in this — but your advertisement proves it beyond any possibility of doubt. YOUR INSINCERITY is demonstrated beyond any reasonable doubt, because you say you are so pleased that "VILIFICATION AND MEAN ABUSE HAS NOT BEEN A PART OF OUR CAMPAIGN." That you have "not carried on a campaign to hurt anybody's feelings or discredit any individual, etc."

Have you forgotten — or do you hope that the people have forgotten — that it was the McCowen faction who began the personal abuse two years ago? We think we have already explained above why they have not used the newspapers until the last day or two.

Do you believe in the principle of your chief in sending out notice to a teacher he does not wish to be present at their meetings, a day too late for that teacher to attend? And do you believe that it is right then to publicly abuse and accuse such teacher for not coming to that meeting? Mr. E. O. McCowen did not deny that he personally did this thing — because the evidence was there — the identical letter to prove it — and Mr. McCowen was there to deny it if he could have done so. Are you, as Executive Committee of so worthy an organization as a Teachers' Association ought to be, upholding a man of that character?

The people know and so do many of the teachers know, that you, like many others, are being deceived by a clever and cunning politician. Doubtless you already regret your action. Many Scioto county teachers will vote for and work for the People's candidates, and are not in sympathy with the action taken by their executive committee. We are not blaming you for your action but merely trying to show you your mistake so that no future teachers' organization will ever publicly permit their name to be used in any man's behalf in any political election.

The People's Candidates are confident of winning in this election. To vote for them you must write their names correctly on the blank spaces provided for that purpose. You must put an X before each name. You must not attach or rub out any other names. Vote for the People's Candidates.

Sale of Coats

THE NORTH WINDS BLUSTER BOISTEROUSLY AND THE SNOW CONTINUES TO FALL HEAVILY—This is not a weather report, it is just to let you know how timely our remarkable Coat Sale is.

It's a splendid opportunity to buy everything from Swagger Top-coats to elaborate Wraps luxuriously trimmed with fur, at wonderful reductions.

Come in early and by so doing get the very best choice of the great variety of up-to-the-minute models presented.

Dress Coats

Take To Slender Lines

The most arresting styles in Coats and Wraps this season show slender silhouettes of a wrap-around type—most flattering lines—in which to envelope feminine grace.

And there are so many ways to gain fullness and individuality, so many new tricks of flare and godet, circular flounce and cape effect that one's inspection if nothing more, will intrigue Milady.

The displays are complete, to be sure, but our Coats have been carefully chosen and represent authentic Fall and Winter fashionings in every instance.

Junior Coats

As Smart As They Are Warm

The Topcoats in our Girls' Department were just designed for the Junior Miss. Their simple lines make them suitable for any school or sports occasion, while their fur collars give them added warmth.

And what's more, they are just swanky enough to please those pert young misses who know how to wear good clothes. The mothers too, will be delighted with their attractively Low Prices.

A few of the models are quite slim and most grown-up. As for colors, nearly all shades are represented.

Utility Coats

For The Business-Woman

When a woman goes down to business on any gray or sunny day, there is, after all, a keen pleasure in slipping into a Utility Coat—one that she knows will stand lots of hard wear, and yet look smart.

There is no suggestion of anything but the smartest of smart up-to-dateness about these business Coats. It is a group that has just come in of newest Fall styles.

You'll find just the Coat you are seeking at just the price you seek, we are certain. Colors include new browns, kit fox, grey, mixtures in fine imported materials, in all the newer stylings.

To Those Who Yet, Don't Know Our Prices

We are indeed proud of our reputation as presenting the foremost in style and distinctively fine apparel and dress accessories. It is a reputation won only after hard application, a process of growth that has carried our business to one of the thriving stores in this community.

But every once in a while, our reputation and the appointment of this fine store, as our appreciative patrons call it, is misinterpreted by some as an indication of high prices.

Women who think our merchandise is high-priced, are invariably those who don't know us.

It is true, that our store and stocks give every indication of expense. It is true that our patrons are dressed with the sort of unobtrusive good-taste which was formerly the exclusive sign of extravagant dressers.

But, it is also true, that in spite of all these highly desirable marks of distinction and refinement, our merchandise sells at no more than the ordinary kind.

SUPERINTENDENT McCOWEN'S REPLY

The Following Letter Will Easily Explain Why I Addressed The Citizens At The Community Hall Lucasville, Last Week

Lucasville, Ohio, Nov. 5, 1923

To Whom It May Concern:

Several citizens of Valley Township and ourselves requested Supt. E. O. McCowen to bring the inspector who had taken the High School charter and address an open meeting at the Community Hall so that Mr. McCowen might tell his side of the school situation and refute the mis-statements being made. The meeting was not intended to be political at all but the Opposition made it so.

Supt. E. O. McCowen conducted himself in a very gentlemanly manner as everyone who was present knows. The meeting having served the purpose for which it had been called was adjourned by the chairman. Then the meeting was started over as a new meeting when the other talks were made in which Mr. McCowen was not accorded the same courteous treatment that he had given. There was no attempt made to deceive the voters.

At no time did Mr. McCowen make reference to any School Fight or to the candidacy of any individual. He spoke only for the good of our schools. We regret that he is being placed in the wrong light about the meeting.

Very respectfully,

JOHN R. KLINE,
CHAS. MORGAN

For a correct account of that meeting I call the attention of the people to the report in the Times of Friday evening of last week. That report was written by a Times reporter whom the OPPOSITION may not have known was present. Since the OPPOSITION is so anxious to quote the Times and accept its authority will it not be fair for it to accept that report of the meeting?

Did you say that Supt. Druhot was unprepared? Then how did he happen to have a bunch of letters at hand from which he read? It is likely that his opening statement may have caused me to think when I happened to see those letters from my seat, resting on the stage where mine had been, that I had forgotten my own. Since they were very important and since I could take least chance at that time of losing them since they were the authority for many of my statements I very naturally went forward without thought and grasped the letters, Supt. Druhot grasping them at about the same time. You are well aware that neither of us touched the other and that I finally asked him to read the letters so that he would know that they were mine. Of course, they proved to be his and I was wrong. I apologized to him and to the audience for my mistake in a pleasant way, as all who were present know, and smilingly took my seat because the joke was on me.

When Supt. Druhot lost his head a good while after this episode and at the very conclusion of his speech and made his very ungentlemanly allusion as a climax, did he apologize as a gentleman when he came to himself?

I came to present my side of the question at the request of Valley's own citizens. I tried to be extremely careful and courteous and desired to give no offense, even omitting by intention in the reading of the first inspection report the personal reference to Supt. Druhot in order not to hurt his feelings.

At the opening of my address I said that I was there to answer certain accusations that were being made freely in your community which were false and give my side of the school controversy. I said that I would not engage in debate or any ugly arguments and that I would not intentionally hurt anyone's feelings.

After the meeting had been adjourned by the chairman, Mr. Davis, Mr. J. H. Brant held the crowd and then followed the three speeches by Supt. Druhot, J. H. Brant and Clyde Brant, which have been so ungenerously reported in your advertisement.

I adhered to my preliminary statement and did not answer any of the charges. To have done so would have meant endless arguments in the presence of women and children which certainly could not have helped your school situation. I had copies of letters in my possession at that time which would have refuted the various accusations. They need not be answered except in a GENERAL DENIAL which I hereby give.

I do not believe that Mr. McKinley will tell you that he ever asked me to get him a high school teacher. He will not tell you that he kept me informed of his vacancies. He may have asked me if I knew of high school teachers, I do not remember. But that is quite different from giving the authority to get them.

The following quotation from a letter to Supt. McKinley, May 3, 1918, by Mr. Riegel is as follows: "There are high school teachers if sufficient effort is exercised in seeking them. A city superintendent in Southern Ohio told me that he had two vacancies in his high school and that he had at present 20 applicants for the position." Your school was being run without properly certificated high school teachers. And no excuse can be given for the lack of the same.

Mr. Brant might have told you at the meeting that he had said to me at a board meeting when he was a member, in substance, "Valley Township has always run her own school without any outside help and she will continue to do so." And that idea is the greatest cause of all of the trouble because the thought of it has been the dominating idea of your board of education for most of the time if their actions at various times may be regarded as sufficient evidence. And that idea is indirect to the school law that provides for county supervisors.

STATE OF OHIO
DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
COLUMBUS

VERNON M. RIEGEL,
SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION AS
DIRECTOR OF EDUCATION

May 3, 1923

Co. Supt. E. O. McCowen,
Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Mr. McCowen:

On March 12, the following letter was written to Mr. Moulton, President of the Valley Township Board of Education as the result of the inspection of that school:

"I. TEACHING. The daily schedule is poorly arranged. Although Mr. Druhot is supposedly superintendent, he is teaching more than any of the other instructors of the high school. He should have considerable time reserved for administrative and supervisory duties. If he follows his daily program as now outlined he cannot properly look after the regular administrative duties of his school. The discipline in some of the elementary grades was such as to show the need of better administration. The lack of proper control of pupils was particularly evident at intermission. The teachers doing departmental work in the upper elementary grades are inexperienced. One teacher did not seem to be able to tell just how many pupils were enrolled in his room. The teachers in these grades should be well qualified, not only in the matter of training but in ability to discipline and organize. Furthermore, these teachers should be given considerable assistance by the superintendent of schools. There are too many pupils in each of the grade rooms at the high school building. It is a physical impossibility for any teacher to render proper service with so many pupils in charge. Two pupils in the fifth and sixth grade rooms were not provided with desks.

Mr. Druhot should give more attention to the matter of personal neatness of dress. This would require but little effort and would certainly add to the effectiveness of his school work.

The inspector noticed that nearly all of the teachers left the building as soon as school was out in the afternoon. This indicates lack of interest on their part as there are many matters in any school that need attention at the close of day.

II. COURSE OF STUDY. Your course of study is partially broadened to meet the needs and interests of the various pupils. An alternating curriculum is suggested to still further increase the elective possibilities.

The teacher of English has not provided for a sufficient amount of class and outside reading to comply with our requirements. No outside reading assignments have been made as yet.

III. BUILDING AND EQUIPMENT. Your building is inadequate to your present needs. The rooms used for seating the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grades are overcrowded. A gymnasium and auditorium would add much to the possibilities of your school.

There was considerable lack of order about the building. The manual training room indicated little application of system and much need of general cleaning. Tools scattered, benches were dirty and the floor strewn with shavings of considerable accumulation. The library evidently has had little attention or use. The number of volumes is far short of the requirements for first grade schools. The books are not card catalogued or classified on the shelves. Many of the books are merely text books and cannot be properly accepted for reference. The laboratory facilities are poor. The maps in the grade rooms were covered with dust, indicating little use. They were also carelessly stored.

IV. ADMINISTRATION. Your school is not properly functioning in the county system. Many factors lead to this conclusion.

A county superintendent is always in a position to be of much service to a school and community. The laws of this state provide for county supervision. We recognize the county superintendent as the regular administrative head of all high school work in the county school district. All rules and regulations are transmitted through him.

The other high schools of your county evidence the benefits to be derived from co-operation with the county officials. These schools are found in good condition, and we are certain that many of your weaknesses also could be remedied by consultation and co-operation with Mr. McCowen.

V. SUMMARY. In conclusion, it must be frankly stated that your school is far below the standard of first grade high schools. All of the points mentioned herein SHOULD BE GIVEN IMMEDIATE ATTENTION AS THEY ENDANGER THE RECOGNITION OF YOUR SCHOOL BY THIS DEPARTMENT.

When all matters have been properly corrected, kindly notify us point by point.

"Since the matters needing correction are largely due to INEFFICIENT ADMINISTRATION AND ORGANIZATION THEY SHOULD HAVE YOUR PARTICULAR ATTENTION AT THIS TIME IN ORDER TO PROTECT THE RATING OF YOUR SCHOOL NEXT YEAR. EITHER A NEW ADMINISTRATIVE HEAD SHOULD BE OBTAINED FOR YOUR SCHOOLS or else definite steps should be taken to strengthen the administration that exists. Your county superintendent could undoubtedly give you valuable advice in these matters. A copy of this letter is being sent TO HIM and TO ALL MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION."

Very Truly Yours,

C. B. ULERY,

High School Inspector

GBU:R

Although the above letter was received by the president of the Valley Board about the middle of March, why was it not read at a meeting of said board? And although Supt. Druhot received a copy of the same letter why did he not call the attention, if the president did not, of all members of the board to the letter? Was it not done to prevent Mr. John S. Violet, a member of the board, who had always stood for the good of Valley schools and its compliance with the standards of the State Department of Education from having a knowledge of this situation? Were any other members of the Valley Board given the facts of this letter privately or did no one in Valley have the information except the president and Supt. Druhot? Were they afraid to let the patrons of the high school of Valley Township know the truth? Or was it simply carelessness or negligence on the part of both of said officials?

Since from the middle of March until May 3 the State Department of Education had apparently had no word from the president of the board or Supt. Druhot, they seemed to think it necessary to send a copy of the above report TO EACH MEMBER OF THE BOARD as well as a copy again to the president, Supt. Druhot and the County Superintendent.

PATRONS OF VALLEY TOWNSHIP HIGH SCHOOL, do you think that you have been given a square deal in this matter? TO THE PUBLIC, does this look like the statements recently in the press that the criticisms of the state are merely technical in nature? Or were there really many things wrong that ought to be corrected?

CITIZENS OF VALLEY TOWNSHIP WHO ATTENDED THE PUBLIC MEETING AT COMMUNITY HALL, did Supt. Druhot admit that the criticisms above were correct in a mainly way or did he try to thoroughly belittle the report of the State High School Inspectors?

Since some of the opposition about Lucasville were recently accusing me of influencing said inspector I asked him for a statement covering that point, a copy of which is as follows:

STATE OF OHIO
DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION
COLUMBUS

VERNON M. RIEGEL,
SUPERINTENDENT OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION AS
DIRECTOR OF EDUCATION

October 30, 1923

Superintendent E. O. McCowen,
Portsmouth, Ohio.

My dear Mr. McCowen:

I am sorry that the impression exists that I may have been influenced by you in making the report of conditions as found in Valley Township High School last year. To dispel this impression, I am submitting the following statement.

Very truly yours,

(Signed) C. B. ULERY,

High School Inspector

TO WHOM IT MAY INTEREST:

This is to state that the report to the Board of Education of conditions found in Valley Township High School last year was based entirely upon my own findings and conclusions and that I was not influenced therein by any efforts of the County Superintendent of Schools.

Respectfully Submitted,

(Signed) C. B. ULERY

Supt. Druhot some time last summer made a course of study for the Valley Township High School without conference with the County Superintendent, had Valley Board adopt the same, and sent it to the State Department of Education himself. It was returned to him with the statement that high school courses of study must be submitted by the County Superintendent to the State Department. This certainly implied that since the County Superintendent is held by the State Department for the maintenance of high school standards in the county that he should have a part in arranging the course of study.

All courses of study for all of the other high schools of the county having been arranged in conference with the County Superintendent were approved by the State Department of Education and returned to County Superintendent McCowen; but the course made by Supt. Druhot made by him alone was returned with criticism and without approval. On September 27, I wrote to Supt. Druhot, Lucasville, Ohio, a letter telling him of this situation and quoting word for word from the Assistant Director's report to me. I also told him that I am requested to take this matter up with you and work out a revision. I am perfectly willing to do this AT YOUR CONVENIENCE, AND SHALL BE PLEASED TO DO SO AT YOUR REQUEST. In answer to my letter to Supt. Druhot he gave one explanation in answer to a question by the State Department and asked me a question or two. DID HE NOT IGNORE THE ORDER OF THE STATE TO "WORK OUT A REVISION" AND DID HE IN ANY WAY IN THAT LETTER OR AT ANY OTHER TIME IN ANY OTHER WAY REFER AT ALL TO MY WILLINGNESS TO WORK OUT THE REVISION WITH HIM AT HIS CONVENIENCE OR AT HIS REQUEST? In short, is it not, therefore, plainly evident that he had no desire to work out a revision with me as County Superintendent? Citizens of Valley Township, is that CO-OPERATION? During the summer Mr. Violet, on my request, had told your board that I was willing to assist them at any time. But no request ever came to me from your Board to assist. WHY?

The State Department of Education sent L. L. Louthian, a different high school inspector, to make a follow-up inspection of the Valley High School, October 15. He spent the entire day carefully inspecting said school. At the close of the day he informed Supt. Druhot that he would suspend the charter. I DID NOT KNOW UNTIL AFTER THAT TIME THAT HE WAS IN THE COUNTY. Whether he had taken the charter with him or not did not materially matter as the real charter is the record of the rating or standing of the high school in the state office at Columbus. If he cared to take the charter with him, having suspended it, that was his right as a high school inspector. Last year L. L. Louthian and C. B. Ulery, inspecting the high schools of Lawrence County took several high school charters down from the walls, out of the frames, put them in their grips and took them as the property of the State, home to the Columbus office. His action, therefore, in the Lucasville case, which was the only one taken in Scioto County, is not an uncommon thing as my self-appointed critics, the OPPOSITION, would have you believe.

In reply to charges at Lucasville that I took the charter the following telegram is self-explanatory:

The above telegrams show that the inspector had intended to come. And it most emphatically refutes your inferences published and statement that your school had been rechartered and re-rated. The real charter is the record at Columbus. The one you have is as yet of no value. Unless a re-inspection restores your rating you will not have a legal high school, and cannot collect tuition. Outside pupils could not attend.

A copy of the report of the second inspection referred to above, dated October 24, was sent to the President of the Valley Board, Supt. Druhot and the County Superintendent.

A number of commendable points were given and then follows this: (Voters of Valley, at the Community meeting did not Supt. Druhot say he did not know the cause of the removal of the charter, and did he not have in his possession a copy of this report?) Note carefully: The inspector reports the following major deficiencies which were the CAUSE OF HIS REMOVING THE CHARTER:

1. Failure of the school to comply with several orders in the inspection report of March 12, 1923, namely:

(a) The instruction in the upper grades is not up to standard. The results do not speak well for so large an amount of supervision as four periods a day. These teachers do not have adequate supplementary and reference material for effective teaching. Certainly it is the system, OR LACK OF SYSTEM, and not the individual teacher that should be held accountable. Mr. Turner allowed his pupils to read in a most careless and inaccurate manner. Mr. Davis in Arithmetic devotes one of the five periods each week to a written lesson. Miss Mayhew's pupils were quite helpless in Geography and she stated she did not know whether there was a map of Ohio in the building.

(b) Miss Darragh, the English instructor, is one of the two new high school teachers; she has not as yet reorganized definitely the required collateral reading in classics, etc., in her English courses.

(c) No definite steps manifestly have been taken to meet the overcrowded classroom situation. High school classes recite regularly in one basement room.

(d) The maps are not properly administered. They are piled promiscuously on a table in the basement class room.

(e) The laboratory equipment and the library have not been brought up to standard. Chemistry pupils were devoting their laboratory or second period to the construction of a table which should have been provided before the close of the last school year, possibly by the manual training class. No effort has been made to make such necessary additions to the library as:

1. 30 volumes of fiction.

2. Several volumes of science, occupations, general literature, biography and agriculture.

(f) Physical education is not taught at all in the high school.

(g) The flag was not displayed over or in the school building; the flag was hanging on the entrance door throughout the day.

(h) The curriculum has not been put into proper shape for approval.

The inspector reports the following deficiencies which in this instance may be classed as of less significance than the eight listed above:

(a) Text book and memory instruction in the high school due largely to lack of equipment and results in supervision. In Ancient History Miss Adams asked forty-two questions all of which were memory. The pupils answered with a single word or a phrase as a rule. In Latin Miss Adams had thirty of the thirty-five freshmen and felt it necessary to do most of the work. Miss Darragh, like Miss Adams, used some scientific methods but the pupils responded poorly and perfunctorily and both have been confined to text book work largely. With proper facilities and registration of pupils these teachers and pupils would do much more effective work.

(b) Less than forty minutes in the clear in class periods.

(c) Lack of adequate supplementary readers and cabinets for elementary grade supplies.

(e) Appearance of manual training room. (This was largely corrected by the noon hour.)

(f) No scale for hygiene.

(g) Drinking from common cup.

As the inspector has never had the advice of the County Superintendent on the situation at Lucasville and had inspected only one of the schools in the county, he made no effort to pass upon Mr. Druhot's relationship to the County Superintendent's office. He reports the following:

1. Mr. Druhot stated that he co-operates with the County Superintendent in every way except "politically."

2. Mr. Druhot stated that he had not gone to consult the County Superintendent's advice on the curriculum because the County Superintendent has an expense account and has not.

3. Mr. Druhot seemed to resent the inspector's statement that his (Druhot's) French 11 pupils read three pages of French with inaccurate pronunciation and almost no concern from the teacher.

4. Mr. Druhot resented the statement in the last inspection report that he does not co-operate with the County Superintendent.

The inspector reports that the superintendent is evidently capable and ordinarily of proper spirit and that every teacher and the pupils would be desirable to work with. It is the inspector's judgment, however, that every deficiency is due to lack of efficient management and that this is due to personal factors which ought not exist in any school system. For less than one dollar your superintendent could very easily go to the county superintendent's office and return. He needs to consult the advice of County Superintendent McCowen as to how he can get his school into proper condition. Any one familiar with good schools can see in a very short time that much is wrong.

We regret the necessity of suspending your charter. The Board of Inspectors have taken this action but hope that the progressive school people of your district will make justifiable an early restoration.

Very truly yours,

VERNON M. RIEGEL,

By: L. L. Louthian.

LLL:R

The reasons why the charter was removed are clearly set forth above. There is no "mystery" about it.

Mr. Druhot's statement to the inspector as quoted above makes very clear his attitude toward co-operation. His lack of co-operation has been more a matter of complete isolation, that is, a failure to take advantage of the opportunities he could have made to get assistance from the County Superintendent. I have not criticised him personally for this in particular because it is the very same spirit that has been persisted in most of the time by the Lucasville superintendents and it must have been thoroughly understood in some way by said superintendents from some authority that they must have as little to do as possible with the County Superintendent.

Why has not Supt. Druhot occasionally gone to the County Superintendent on Saturdays or at other times to advise with him, as all the other superintendents and principals frequently and freely do?

Much has been attempted to be made out of the apparent shortness of the time of the call to Supt. Druhot to attend the meeting to make out the courses of study, August 28. The Teachers' Institute had just ended. It had been expected that all of the superintendents and principals would attend the County Teachers' Institute. Most of them did. If Supt. Druhot had attended the Institute or if he had taken the matter of his course of study up with me during the summer, having had all summer mind you, this could not have happened. He could not be given the request at the Institute to attend this kind of a meeting for he was not there, and since the courses of study had to be ready for the opening of the schools near at hand the call had to be made on short notice. Instead of assuming a wrong motive, had he at all taken up the matter with me and thus showed desire to help this would not have mattered. BUT HE DID NOT TAKE UP THE MATTER AS STATED ABOVE TO WORK OUT A REVISION OF HIS COURSE OF STUDY AFTER I HAD TOLD HIM IN THE LETTER OF SEPTEMBER 27 THAT I SHOULD BE PLEASED TO DO SO AT HIS REQUEST AND AT HIS CONVENIENCE.

Since I had more or less difficulty in the past in attempting to supervise the Lucasville schools as County Superintendent and since the policy of isolation seemed always to be a fixed policy I thought it best to pay but little further attention to the supervision of the Lucasville schools and thus hoped to avoid any further trouble.

Since the inspection of the Lucasville school in the first year of Supt. Druhot's tenure following my two years of direct supervision as forced by the state, was favorable, would it not seem that he was reaping the benefits of my two years of work as well as of that of the preceding principal and teachers? Since the Valley Board of Education and Supt. Druhot have had full sway in every particular in the management and administration of the Lucasville schools I do not see how any well meaning citizen could hold me responsible for the present conditions as revealed in the above reports, do you?

I believe that the tax payers of Valley Township have paid and are paying enough money to have and to keep the schools at all times in a very good condition, don't you? As I said at the community meeting, since I have been wrongly accused when I tried to assist and again when I did not assist I shall from this time on supervise the Valley Township Schools and make my suggestions and recommendations whether any of them are followed or not.

John S. Violet, a member of the Valley Township Board during all of the time that I have been County Superintendent and also a member of the County Board since the beginning in 1914 has uniformly done his best to have his board of education work in co-operation with the County Superintendent and to have it properly articulated with the State Department of Education, in the way that the State desires. He has endeavored under trying circumstances to maintain proper standards. He deserves the hearty support from the voters of Valley Township for his efforts to hold your schools right whether he gets that support or not or even if he should be denied it because of the fact that he has performed his duty well.

I have never had the policy of the destruction of the Valley Township Schools in mind as the OPPOSITION so unjustly charge. There has been a fixed policy to keep "a little iron fence" around Valley Township and I believe that the voters of Valley Township know where in their midst to fix the blame for that policy.

There are many evidences of that isolation in addition to those indicated above. Some are as follows:

1. The employment of grade teachers very generally from without the county when just as good teachers are available within the county. There is, of course, no reflection upon the outside teachers.

2. The practical impossibility of any properly qualified man in Scioto County to be elected to the Lucasville superintendency. Why?

3. The failure of the Lucasville schools to participate in various county-wide activities even upon urgent requests of the County Superintendent. It was impossible to get the school wagons in the Korn Carnival parade although the Wheelersburg school wagons were cheerfully placed therein by its board of education. The practical impossibility of getting exhibits from the Lucasville schools to the County Fair although the Fair was held at Lucasville. Supt. Druhot did not have the manual training exhibit at the last County Fair, giving as his reason that the products were the property of the pupils. All of the manual training products of Otway, South Webster and Wheelersburg that you saw on exhibition at the last Fair were also the property of the individual pupils. But they were loaned by the pupils themselves for the purpose, being taken out of their homes and transported to and from the Fair at the expense of the respective boards of education.

4. Various other instances might be given. To any fair minded person it ought to be clear that the County Superintendent has not had the chance that he should have had at the hands of the Valley board, speaking of the majority of the said board, except for a small part of the time.

I submit the question in all fairness and without prejudice to the people of Valley Township to their own fairminded judgment.

Respectfully yours,

E. O. McCOWEN

Sport News

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—Football followers found much for discussion in battles of Saturday in which Cornell Yale and Syracuse vanquished powerful foes. The day, spectacular in many contests, came up to full expectations as a big football date.

Yale was vindicated for paying her football coaches $42,000 a year when the Blue team Army's scalp, no mean achievement, by the count of 31 to 10. Cornell made a great showing against the unbeaten Dartmouth team, ending with a 32 to 7 victory, and Syracuse took the measure of the unbeaten Penn State, 10 to 0.

Pennsylvania's victory over the Pittsburgh Panthers put the Red and Blue eleven that much nearer a chance to curb Cornell's advance. Columbia showed marked improvement in defeating the Middlebury eleven which tied Harvard. Harvard's defeat of Tufts eliminated another worthy contender for the high places. Princeton beating Navy's 9 to 0 defeat of Colgate and Amherst's victory over Wesleyan 12 to 10.

George Staten took part in the Ohio Wesleyan, 19 to 14 victory over the Michigan Aggies Saturday. He played right half, going in once for a goal and later for Pearce. He failed to get away Saturday for any of his famous long runs.

Howard Moritz, local young man playing with Ohio University, got back into the game Saturday against Kenyon on Ohio field. Ohio

U won 14 to 0. Moritz played left half and kicked one goal after touchdown.

The strong Lancaster high school eleven defeated by Portsmouth two weeks ago by a close score, lost to Westerville on the Lancaster field Saturday by a 7 to 0 score. A blocked punt on the 3 yard line resulted in the touchdown in the last 30 seconds of play. Lancaster was minus the services of six regulars and were greatly outplayed. Several of Lancaster's best players were injured in the P. H. S. game.

Michigan will have a real game on its hands this week-end when it plays the U. S. Marine team, which has been winning from the best teams in the East. This is one game that Coach Yost is a little worried over as he is anxious to keep his state cleaned this season.

The Smoke House eleven hopped up to Chillicothe Sunday and played the newly organized Independents, of that state. The teams battled to a scoreless tie, neither team having its goal line crossed. The Smoke House team suffered the loss of its brilliant halfback, Hecker Devoss, when he was put out of the game on a charge of slugging. His banishment taking place just after the game had started. Devoss says he never has been guilty of slugging in a game and the referee had no reason to eject him from the game yesterday. The crowd surged right around the players all the time and the game was dull and uninteresting.

The Tanks continue to win from all classes of opponents, good, bad or indifferent. They beat the strong Logan (W. Va.) team Sunday, 7 to 0. The game being played before 1,600 football enthusiasts in Ironton. Frank skinned Logan's left flank for the only touchdown of the game.

The Glenwood high school eleven of New Boston went far away from home Saturday to be defeated. The New Boston team was taken to Rutland, way over in Meigs county, and that high school eleven won 16 to 7. Coach Seavers of Glenwood, who comes from Rutland and he was anxious to take his team "back home" to show the folks what kind of a team Glenwood boasted of this season.

The New Boston lads made a good showing and gave the Rutland warriors a real battle. The Ohio State eleven is due to win its first Western Conference game Saturday when it tackles the Purdue team in Lafayette, Stato. showed an improved offensive and defensive Saturday against Denison and changes made in the team, by Coach Wilce worked out splendidly. A special train will be run to Lafayette from the Capital City.

The Jackson 11 team will drop down to Ironton next Saturday and meet the Ironton 11 team in their annual grid tilt, which should be full of thrills. The P. H. S. eleven has another contest on a foreign field before returning to the home pasture. This coming Saturday will see P. H. S. in Chillicothe battling the Blue and White eleven of the Tiger defense within the following Saturday. The locals come home to meet Trade 11 of Columbus.

The Ironton Register says: "Ironton High celebrates a moral victory over the Ashland Tomcats, having held the widely heralded Ashland High team to a 7 to 0 score on the Beechwood gridiron Saturday afternoon. And it should have been a victory for the Tiger-men. They outplayed their opposition in all except the first quarter and the first few minutes of the second period. Thereafter they became violent and played with the vigor and tenacity of the jungle folks after whom they were named. Ashland lost their best bet when Franz, a dashing halfback, was injured in the first half. He was a daring chap, who excelled at line bucking and he alone had the drive that penetrated the Tiger defense within the danger zone. His playmates in the Kentucky team's backfield were helpless without his efforts and the invaders never threatened after their initial spurt.

Coch Davies' youthful gridders excelled at the aerial game and in the tie contest the name of Kenneth Koepfer, Esq., must stand out in burnished letters. This driving getter worked from the halfback post like a steam piston and tore loose for numerous thrilling runs, snatching pass after pass out of the ozone and racing far and wide for handsome gains. The Portsmouth debacle can now be explained. With Koepfer out of the game, the Tigers are minus combative strength, both defensive and offensive, and they are hard to hold when the youthful southsiders tears in with every ounce of vigor that he possesses. Yes, sir, Kenneth Koepfer deserves much credit for his efforts. While speaking of stars, one must not overlook the lanky "Jiggs" Roush, who covered himself with glory when he suggested ascending forward pass, driven by the surefooted "Cotton" Rutledge, and sneaking down the sidelines for a touchdown, tying the count and giving the Ironton High rosters something to shout about.

Candidates Confident On Election Eve

With the campaign practically at an end, "vote counting" will be the principal pastime today and tomorrow.

This untiring occupation was followed around headquarters of the various candidates last week, where precinct registration was dissected, classified and tabulated with the following conclusions:

"Calvert will be elected by a good majority."

"Gableman will be elected by a good majority."

To persons of uncertain clutch, the suggestion has been made that a market basket be taken to the polls.

Each voter will be handed a sheet of printed matter sufficient to paper the pantry shelves and constituting a bundle that some may have trouble keeping under an arm.

Including full levy six ballots, separate pieces of paper will be included in the ballot from the judges and clerks in the city election booths. They vary in length from the one bearing the amendments to the state constitution, which is about the length of an ordinary yard stick, to the alternative judicial ballot, which is as long as the state constitution.

The municipal ticket contains the usual list of candidates of both major parties. The board of education ballot will contain four printed names, while the full levy ballot will have spaces for "Yes" or "No" marks. The judicial ballot contains only two names.

The full bill, the Albaugh bill and the old-age pension measure, the first two placed on the ballot by referendum petition, and the last by initiative petition, are on one sheet. In each case the decision of the individual voter is to be indicated by placing a cross mark before "Yes" or "No."

Three proposed amendments to the state constitution are printed in full on the longest sheet to be received by the voters. One of them relates to changes in the workman's compensation provision, another proposes to take the words "white male" out of the clause specifying who may vote, and a third provides for publication of proposed laws or constitutional amendments subjected to referendum, together with arguments for and against them.

SOME PARTING WORDS

TAKEING it all around it has been a rather decent campaign. Campaigns should be altogether so, as then the people would be in better mind to carefully weigh the merits of candidates and such issues as properly revolve about a city election.

In brief times The Times will speak its last word upon it. Holding the interest of Portsmouth above all other matters that may enter into a purely local election, having at all times a single and praiseworthy interest in the welfare and progress of the city, The Times urges the election of William Gableman for mayor. It doesn't make any difference what we or any one else may think about William N. Gableman, the individual, the plain, indisputable fact is that he has made an exceptionally good and successful mayor. We are not electing an individual tomorrow, we are choosing a mayor, an official who is to serve us. The question then is not what we may give him, but what will he give us. As mayor Mr. Gableman has made Portsmouth distinct among all the cities of Ohio, for its excellent management. He has developed knowledge and capacity for municipal government that make him marked as mayor. With ripened experience, with his manifest zeal about city affairs it is reasonable, it is only sensible, to believe he will do still better if continued in position. His opponents has done nothing to create favorable judgment as to his ability to conduct the business of a great city. As chief appointive officer in the ill famed Kaps administration, it was never so much as whispered that he even mildly protested against the methods in vogue then that were hurrying Portsmouth on the financial shoals upon which other cities find themselves.

On the constitutional ballot, if you love humanity, if you would like to see labor and capital at peace, vote yes, on the first amendment—the workmen's compensation measure.

On the tax referendums you can serve yourself best by voting no.

There ought to be no hesitation about voting no on the old age pension measure. Adopted it is estimated it would cost the state forty million dollars the first year, and more each year after that. Worse still it would breed paupers by the tens of thousands.

Of course, being proud of your county, wanting her to present a decent front, and to treat even criminals humanely, you will vote yes on the jail bond proposition.

THE ESTEEMED PORTSMOUTH TIMES

(From The Circleville Democrat)

THE Portsmouth Times is an esteemed contemporary. It has an exclusive monopoly on the newspaper business in Scioto county. To keep out competition, it maintains and publishes, from a Democratic office, a Sunday Republican paper. It affects to be Democratic, but is practically independent in politics. It reserves the right, and considers it a duty, to read the riot act, now and then, to its party and politicians. It is liberal in respect to the drink question and conservative in the matter of enforcement of prohibition laws. So much then for its status in its relation to the public and the neglected truth.

Last week when the telegraph brought the news from Washington that Gov. Donahy had repudiated Al Smith of New York, declaring, it was alleged, that if Smith was nominated by the Democrats for President, he would vote for Coolidge, The Times, forthwith and without delay went into a spasm. In a double column editorial six or eight inches in length, it fumed and frothed and spit cotton, and in brief, manifested every evidence of political cataplexy.

When Governor Donahy's attention was called to what he is alleged to have said, relative to Smith and Coolidge, he made this statement:

"I haven't any idea where the story about my alleged utterances with respect to presidential candidates emanated. The only interview I gave out dealt solely with Ohio matters."

We submit that a fervent apology is due Governor Donahy from The Times. Although Al Smith is unspeakable and intolerable, in so far as self-respecting, progressive Democrats are concerned, it is unreasonable to believe that the Governor would give out any such statement for publication. That falsehood was promulgated by enemies of Mr. Donahy and was intended for consumption by a type of Democrat whose wish is father to the thought.

We suggest that the next time a "grape-vine" from Washington, reaches The Times, that it confine its editorials for a day or two to the state of Mormonism in Utah. It will be a whole lot safer and infinitely more dignified.

The above and all of which is from the Circleville Democrat, edited by our old compatriot and co-laborer in the Democratic vineyard, J. W. Johnson, formerly of the Waverly Watchman, of revered memory. We submit it because it is nice to know what others are saying about you, and your neighbors. Whenever prohibition is mentioned Editor Johnson's pen begins to exude almost as freely as moonshine flows about Circleville on Saturday and that makes him doubly fascinating.

There is just one paragraph in his diatribe that we object to—it's too adroit. It says "it is unreasonable to believe the Governor would give out any such statement for publication." That denies nothing and asserts nothing. The Times never said Governor Vie gave out his "unreasonable statement" for publication. It just said he said it and that's all. And there it stands. Editor Johnson, perhaps, was only auto-suggestively following Governor Vie, "deny the allegation and defy the alligator." He only says he "doesn't know where the story about my alleged utterances with respect to presidential candidates emanated." The only interview I gave out dealt solely with Ohio." We ask Editor Johnson to study the denial carefully.

P. S. Since the above was written The Times received a letter from its Washington correspondent, in which he stands pat on his quotation of Donahy, insisting the Governor said just what was attributed to him.

New York=Day=By=Day

BY O. O. MINTYRE.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys: Up and to Verne Fort's, and sat about with Eugene Walter, the play maker, and Charles Maigne, the cinema director, and then to breakfast at the Lambs.

A foggy, gray day and a light rain falling. I walked about the reservoir alone and somehow found myself in tears, the greatest funk I ever had. Nor could I shake it off by joining some mad roysterers in a game of pool.

Yet I was slightly amused a little later in a music hall when a comic complained his luck was so bad that if the lights went suddenly out at Macy's he would be in the piano department. Home in the late afternoon and had my wife play some doleful airs on the harpsichord.

In the evening drove to Jasper Bayne's birthday party in Connecticut and George Chappell and Frank Crowsfield cut some high capers, very amusing, and then back in the brave moonshine and so to bed, very tired.

Roy L. McCordell, the long distance humorist, (he's been punning for 20 years) has won another prize contest. This time he solved a traffic problem and received a cash award from a chain of theatres. Year after year, McCordell goes right along winning prizes. Up to date he has won a home in New Rochelle, two automobiles, $15,000 in cash, a section of land in Oregon and a piano.

It was one of those apartment house parties where the guests often arrive in limousines and leave in patrol wagons. About 3 a. m. tenants in the building were awakened by a piercing scream. They rushed to the halls. The janitor soon pacified them. "Nothing the matter," he explained. "The hostess suddenly discovered she was out of ice."

The middle aged cafe habitués are of the same mould. They are always calling for the manager and heaping insults upon the head waiter. They are bald and have a paunch and according plights in their necks and are dressed in their rudeness. They are welcomed, for they pay well for wine and jazz to impress the bored.

Come in and see for yourself the staunch good looks of Barrett Everlastic Mineral-Surfaced Roll Roofing.

It gives your buildings a handsome, durable, fire-resisting red, green or blue-black roof that needs no painting.

Seedtime and Harvest

(By H. O'Leary Stead)

Youth is the springtime of life's long year.

And spring is the time to sow seeds which blossom in summer's sun.

And fruit in the autumn's glow.

Sow what you'd reap; if it's love and trust,

The flowers will fragrant be;

Autumn come—rich with treasured store,

A harvest of faith for thee.

Life with its seasons is ours to use,

With spring as its time for seed;

Dig deep in your heart and plant with care

A store for eternity's need.

Death Calls Edward T. Welch

Edward T. Welch, for 25 years a salesman for the Gilbert Grocery Co., died at 12:45 Monday morning at his home, 812 Glover street. The immediate cause of death was uraemic poisoning and followed a week's illness. However, Mr. Welch's condition had not been serious until Saturday afternoon, and few of his friends knew of his illness. After taking to his bed his condition became critical and he passed away with loved ones at his bedside.

Mr. Welch, who was 60 years old, was one of the best-known and most successful salesmen in Portsmouth. He had a wide acquaintance and the news of his passing away will be learned with genuine regret. Before going on the road for the Gilbert Grocery Co., Mr. Welch conducted grocery stores in various sections of the city, and at one time had the finest confectionery in Southern Ohio. He was genial and affable at all times, a hard and conscientious worker, and in his death the Gilbert Grocery Co. loses one of its most loyal workers. Ed T. Welch, as he was familiarly known, was faithful to every trust reposed in him, and in his passing the city loses a splendid citizen. He is survived by the following pieces: Mrs. C. C. Spangler, Miss Pauline Welch, Miss Katherine Welch, Harry Welch, Mrs. J. W. Beck, of this city; Mrs. George Schoonover, of New York city, and Mrs. Edward Swander, of Springfield, Mass.

Mr. Welch had for years been a member of River City Council, No. 11, U. C. T.

Pending arrival of out-of-town relatives funeral arrangements have not been made.

Stop Race Against Time

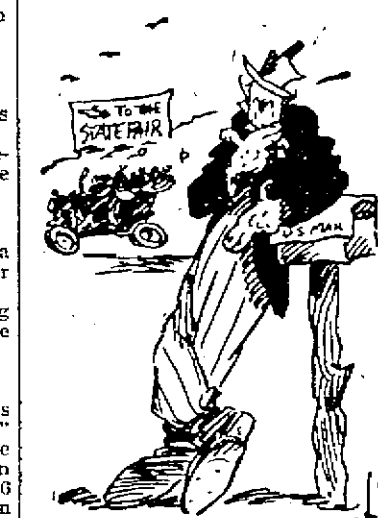

WASHINGTON, November 3.—(By the Associated Press) Further speed contests between naval air service fliers such as those yesterday at Mitchell Field, N. Y., were postponed for an indefinite period under an order issued today by Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, chief of the bureau of naval aeronautics.

Admiral Moffett based his decision on an opinion by his technical staff that naval fliers now have achieved the maximum speed in the air which is possible without grave risk of human life. The exhibition now in progress for army relief at the Long Island field will be continued through the approved program however.

Denounced Action Of Police

In spite of the adverse weather conditions a goodly number entered upon the first quarterly communion service at 10:30 Sunday morning. Six adults were received into the fellowship of the United Brethren church at this service.

Close to 100 young people enjoyed the Christian Endeavor service at 6 o'clock, led by the whole Honey family. For a number of weeks whole families will lead the Endeavor meetings, and this is creating much interest among the young people of the parish.

The large auditorium was filled at the evening service to hear the pastor discuss the theme "Christian Citizenship." He urged electors to vote for principles rather than personalities.

A number of members of the clan were in the audience, and in closing the pastor spoke for a few minutes of the activities of the clan and the city police on Sunday, October 28. In his remarks the pastor denounced the action of the police in arresting the men as they were en route to a church service. Rev. Dalley announced "Outward Christian Soldiers" as the closing song of the evening, and then spoke of how the stirring of that song impressed him when the clan organization rendered that song in front of the police station following their arrest.
